Assembly Committee Demands Names of Other Fire Traps

RECEIVERS AGREE TO AMENDMENT OF LOOP FRANCHISE

They Demand for Southern Traction Company, However, Preservation of the Right of Entry by the Railroad Into the City—William Lorimer and Other Receivers to Discuss Terms With Joint Assembly Committee Today.

In a signed statement Wednesday the three receivers of the Southern Traction Co. of Illinois declared that they were willing to settle the controversy over the loop franchise by accepting an amendment to it in accordance with the wishes of the people of St. Louis.

The receivers, William Lorimer, Wilbur E. Crane and John A. Hamilton, announced that they had made an appointment with the joint committee of the Council and House of Delegates for 5 p. m. to discuss the terms of the amendment to the franchise.

It is understood that the receivers are willing to accept a reduction in the term of the franchise from 50 years to 25 years, or the repeal outright of the original grant and the substitution of an indeterminate franchise. Under either condition the city would retain the right to purchase the property of the company any time after 10 years.

Letter From Receivers.

The statement given out by Receivers Lorimer, Crane and Hamilton follows:

ST. LOUIS, March 10, 1914.

Having been appointed receivers of the Southern Traction Co. of Illinois by the District Courts of the United States for the Eastern District of Illinois and the Eastern District of Missouri, it is our purpose to at once complete this road from Belleville to East St. Louis and to put it into operation. As there is very little to be done we expect to have it in operation very soon.

We have learned that there is some opposition in the city of St. Louis to the franchise that has been granted to the Southern Traction Co. of Illinois for use of certain streets in the city of St. Louis, known as the "loop franchise."

It is well to understand that we consider the present ordinance as a vested right of the Southern Traction Co.

Believing as we do that the entrance of this system into St. Louis will be of great advantage to both the city and the railroad, we are prepared to and will recommend to the court whose appointees we are, a modification of this ordinance to meet the wishes of the people of St. Louis, provided that such modification does not affect the material interests of the property and under all conditions preserve the right of entry of the railroad into the city.

We have an appointment with the joint committee of the Council and House of Delegates Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when we hope to arrive at something definite.

WILLIAM LORIMER,
WILBER E. CRANE,
JOHN A. HAMILTON, Receivers.

Factor in Bridge Fight.

The Southern Traction franchise has been one of the principal factors in the controversy which has prevented the completion of the free bridge. The Municipal Assembly, meeting Tuesday night, appointed a joint committee to consider the question of either repealing the franchise outright, or limiting its term to 25 years. It was originally a 50 years' grant, and included besides the loop franchise in the business district of St. Louis, a franchise to use the free bridge.

The bridge portion of the franchise was repealed, but the loop franchise has not been amended.

The receivers have no authority to settle the matter themselves. They will make their recommendations to the U. S District Court at Danville, Ill., and it is believed that the recommendation will have great weight with the court.

60,000 EXPECTED TO SIGN PETITIONS

The initiative campaign to complete the free bridge by the Reber approach route had gained such headway Wednesday that the Citizens Free Bridge Committee estimated that the petitions to the Municipal Assembly would contain not less than 60,000 signatures.

The first day the campaign was opened all of the precinct petitions for the Seventh, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth wards had been taken out by volunteer workers, and a large portion of the precinct petitions for the Third Ward had been asked for.

At least 300 other volunteer workers took out general petitions for circulation in all parts of the city. Wednesday morning's mail brought to the headquarters of the Citizens' Committee pledges of at least 300 members of the Business Men's League to circulate the initiative petitions.

It was estimated that petitions containing more than 2000 signatures already had been turned in by the volunteer canvassers. By Saturday night it is expected that the number of signatures to the petitions will be far in excess of the number required to force the bridge bond issue to an election.

$75,000 LEFT TO BUSINESS PROTEGE OF FIRE VICTIM

A romance in which a young business protege inherits a $75,000 interest in the Holstein Commission Co., 1002 North Broadway, was revealed Wednesday in the filing of the will of George Goener, president of the Wellston Trust Co., of 6227 Easton avenue, who lost his life in the M. A. C. fire.

The man is Herman Kronsbein, 34 years old, of 4525 Morgan street, who now is treasurer of the Holstein Co. At the time the will was made, May 20, 1908, Kronsbein was secretary of the company. Attorney Williams Sachs, who filed the will for probate, made the estimate of the value of the business inherited by Kronsbein. He also stated Goener's estate was worth about $100,000. The remainder is bequeathed to Goener's half-brother, Wilhelm Johansman, who lives at Borgloh, Germany.

Goerner only recently was elected president of the Wellston Trust Co., succeeding Fred Essen, Republican boss of St. Louis County. He had been out purchasing a cigar and when he returned to the directors' meeting he was told of his election to the presidency.

Goener was 45 years old and a bachelor. He was a permanent guest at the M. A. C.

Among his real estate holdings, Remley said, was the Columbian Hall at Vandeventer and Easton avenues, formerly the old Liederkranz Hall.

Upon Kronsbein's application to Probate Judge Holtcamp, he was appointed administrator of Goener's estate, although Public Administrator Newell had filed upon it last Monday.

William A. Denvir of Webster Groves took out administration papers in the estate of Thomas B. Shyne, 34 years old, salesman for the Underwood Typewriter Co., whose body has not been recovered. He estimated the value of Shyne's estate at $17,000.

David Remley, grocer, who was one of Goener's closest associates, said Goener made his fortune out of the manufacture of oleomargarine. Twenty years ago, he said, Goener was a driver of a Union Dairy Co. milk wagon. Two years later, with his savings, he went into the butter and egg business, later manufacturing oleomargarine. Gradually, as his wealth increased, he widened his business activities, until at his death he was president of the trust company, the Holstein company, the Crystal Natatorium Co., at Cook and Channing avenues, and the Vandeventer Commission Co.

FOUR MEN TELL OF A STRANGE M. A. C. INCIDENT

J. H. Hobelman of 2336 Compton avenue, chief window dresser for the B. Nugent & Bro. Dry Goods Co., and his assistants Guy and Moreland Bryant of 4138 Shaw avenue and Dan Borneman of 1916 St. Louis avenue, Wednesday told a Post-Dispatch reporter that while they were dressing a window on Washington avenue directly opposite the M. A. C., at 2 a. m. Monday, they saw three well-dressed women and their escorts leave the club apparently in great excitement.

The three men, they said, were tugging at the arms of the women as though trying to get them back into the club, while the women screamed and dragged their escorts westward toward Broadway in the middle of the street. Guy Bryant said that at this time there was a crash and on looking up he saw great tongues of flame darting out of the window of what he knew as a private dining room on the third floor of the M. A. C. building.

Women Screamed, Fled.

At the same time, he declared, the women and their escorts also looked up and the women screamed and fled, while their escorts seemed to redouble their efforts to take them toward the M. A. C. entrance.

In another moment, the four young men said, they saw eight men climb down the fire escape on the west end of the building, who, later were taken into Nugent's. In the meantime, Bryant said, the three women and their escorts disappeared.

Guy Bryant and Borneman said it appeared to them that the three women and their escorts knew of some dangeer in the clubhouse, and that the men seemed to be striving to re-enter the place against the wishes of the women.

Borneman said a few minutes later there were two explosions and that almost instantly the entire upper floors of the building were a mass of flames.

Sent to Turn in Alarm.

Hobelman declared he believed the fire started in the private dining room from which he saw flames burst through a window. "I am sure that if the club management could ascertain the names of the three women and their escorts and get them to tell what they know, it would throw considerable light on the cause of the fire," he said.

While the women and men were going toward Broadway, Hobelman said, William Walt, another helper at Nugent's, was sent to turn in an alarm.

M'KELVEY SAYS HE HAS NO LIST OF DANGEROUS PLACES

Building Commissioner McKelvey, in response to a demand from the Municipal Assembly for a list of all fire traps or buildings in which there is great fire danger, including hotels, clubs, theaters, lodging houses or other places frequented by large numbers of people, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday that he had no list of the kind demanded.

Fire Chief Swingley, in reply to a request from the Civic League for such a list, said his office had not compiled a list of fire traps, but it was probable such a list could be made from the letter files of his office.

The object of the Municipal Assembly and the Civic League is to minimize the danger of loss of life by the publication of a list of the fire traps, and by ascertaining exactly what is needed in the way of additional legislation.

The Municipal Assembly in its resolution authorized a thorough investigation of the M. A. C. fire, with a view to fixing the responsibility for the loss of lives.

"Associate City Counselor Griffin was wrong when he said I would have the power to close any hotel or lodging house in which it might be unsafe for person to sleep, or any amusement place where it might be unsafe for persons to congregate," said McKelvey to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

"I cannot condemn any building unless it is physically unsafe. If the walls are unsound or the floors insecure, I can close a building until the needed repairs are made. I cannot go beyond that in determining the safety of a building, except that it is within my province to see that all buildings where persons congregate are equipped with proper exit lights, legal fire escapes and adequate means of reaching those escapes in case of fire.

"Even though I knew that the alterations made in the Missouri Athletic Club had made it a third-class building which would be dangerous in case of fire, I had no right to order that its use as a hotel be discontinued.

"I could only insist that the regulations as to fire escapes and means of reaching them should be enforced. I had no right to condemn the building so long as it had sound walls and was otherwise physically strong."

"When we find a building which is dangerous we report it to Building Commissioner and to the Fire Prevention Bureau," said Swingley. "We do not keep these reports in tabulated form. I had always supposed that a record of that sort was kept by the Building Commissioner.

"While I have not officially been asked for such a list I am willing to furnish any information in my possession which would aid in reducing the number of fire traps in St. Louis."

Norton Newcomb, president of the M. A. C., Wednesday said that in the six years of his official connection with the club, he had received no notice from any person that the building was unsafe, and that if he had been so notified he would have obtained action by the club to remedy the defects.

He said that if city officials believed the building was in the condition they now say it was they should have posted notices in the club and should have condemned the building.

Newcomb said he would make a personal investigation in an effort to learn who had examined the building and found it unsafe, and why they had not ordered it remodeled or condemned it.

The Civic League sent a letter to the Building Commissioner and Fire Chief after its Executive Committee had met and discussed the situation. Roger N. Baldwin, secretary of the league, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday the league had caused to be introduced in

MAYOR DIRECTS THAT SEARCH BE HASTENED TO RELIEVE SUSPENSE

City Laborers Make Slow Progress Owing to Danger That Roof, Now at Third Floor Level, May Fall—Body of Michael Thuma, a Guest From Chicago, Is Identified.

Mayor Kiel, visiting the ruins of the Missouri Athletic Club (Boatmen's Bank) at noon today, and finding only 30 of Building Commissioner McKelvey's staff of 100 laborers at work, urged McKelvey to put the other 70 to work, in order to make better progress toward the finding of the 20 bodies still in the wreckage, beside the 10 which have been recovered.

The Mayor's action was caused by the bitter complaints of club officials and relatives of the dead, who told him they had watched the work, and were unable to see that any progress was being made. The same complaints were made to a Post-Dispatch reporter who watched the work at close range. One man said he watched for an hour without seeing anything done which ould hasten the finding of the bodies.

Fire Chief Swingley said it would take two or three days to reach the bodies, at the rate of progress being made.

McKelvey replied that, until more of the debris could be removed from the fallen roof, it would not be safe to put more men on the roof, which is now a little above the level of the third floor. Kiel again urged on him the necessity of pressing the work as fast as possible, and gave orders that a night shift of workers be hired, and calcium lights furnished by the Fire Department, if it should not prove practicable to string wires for arc lights.

Because of the Mayor's fear, which was shared by President Kinsey of the Board of Public Improvements, that the south wall would fall into Washington avenue, the sidewalk was roped off, after having been open most of the morning.

Michael Thuma's Body Is Identified.

The eighth identification was that of the body of Michael Thuma of Chicago, at noon. Arthur Alschuler, president of a Chicago clothing company, which employed Thuma as manager of its cutting department, made the identification, chiefly by means of a ring. It contained the initials "B. T.," which were those of Thuma's wife, and the date, "2-23-1901." He arranged to take the body to Chicago on a night train. Thuma was at the club as a guest of M. Solomon.

Shortly afterward, relatives of Lucius P. Ruff decided that the body whose identity has been in doubt, and which was first taken to the home of Allen Hancock's mother as Hancock's body, was Ruff's. Clarence Ruff, a brother, obtained permission to take the body. He said the shape of the head convinced him the body was his brother's.

At noon two sacks of clothing and jewelry and other articles that had been collected by the workmen were lowered to the street and taken to the Carr Street Police Station. The only garment identified was Thomas Wright's tuxedo.

The father of William J. Kinser obtained permission to remove Kinser's effects from his room. A friend of Kinser, accompanied by a fireman, went to the room and brought down a suit case and valise containing jewelry and papers. The elder Kinser then sent for men with block and tackle to lower two trunks.

William B. Graul, clerk of the Missouri Athletic Club, has carefully checked up the list of those believed to have been in the club Sunday night, and he is convinced the list will be limited to the 30 whose names are now known. Norton Neweomb, president of the club, agreed with him, disagreeing with W. E. Fritsch and Edward Bornmueller, club officials, who believed several persons whose names have not yet been reported would prove to have been lost.

Believes 88 Persons Were in Building.

Graul said he had satisfied himself that 88 persons, including seven employes of the club, were in the building when the fire started. The seven employes escaped, and so, he figures, did at least 50 of the guests, including the injured who are in hospitals. This would leave only 31 unaccounted for.

Graul said the only possibility of any large number having been in the building, so far as he could see, was that some member might have taken a guest to his room with him. This was done in the case of Allen Hancock, who was with Burch Crouch in room 49. If it was done in some other known to the management, that would give another person to be accounted for.

Of the club's 90 rooms, six were double rooms, intended for the occupancy of two men. Eleven rooms were vacant Sunday night. Graul said it was the lightest night of the season, either Sunday or weekday, in the number of guests accommodated. One man was asleep in the Turkish bath, Jack Hugh, who escaped.

Hope for Borders' Safety Abandoned.

Any remaining hope for the safety of William Borders, banker, of Sparta, Ill., was abandoned when telegrams of inquiry, sent to Kansas City, brought the reply that he had not been seen at the Kansas City Athletic Club or by his busines friends there.

Borders left Sparta Sunday afternoon, intending to take a night train from St. Louis to Kansas City, but his train got into Union Station too late to connect with any of the 9 o'clock trains which furnish the only night service to Kansas City since the midnight trains were taken off. So he went to the M. A. C. Some suggested that he might possibly have escaped and taken a morning train, but this idea has been abandoned.

CIRCUIT ATTORNEY AND CORONER TO FIX THE BLAME

Padberg Impanels Jury for Inquest, Which Will Be Watched by Harvey.

Coroner Padberg and Circuit Attorney Harvey Wednesday said they would make every effort to fix responsibility for the loss of life in the fire.

The Coroner already has impaneled a jury for the inquest. He will undertake to fix definitely the responsibility for the disaster and to determine whether there was negligence on the part of officials of the Boatmen's Bank, owners of the M. A. C. building, or of the officials of the club, or both.

Circuit Attorney Harvey said he would have a representative at the inquest to bring out evidence tending to show responsibility. If it is found that anyone may legally be charged with responsibility the evidence will be laid before the grand jury.

Coroner Views the Ruins.

Coroner Padberg, with a deputy and a stenographer, officially viewed the ruins in the afternoon. He found that on the fifth, sixth and seventh floors in the northwest corner of the building there were several steel fire doors which had no connection with a fire escape.

The Coroner said this was the type of door which usually leads to an escape and he believes some of the lodgers at the club may have opened the doors and stepped out into space, thinking fire escapes were there. He said he would not be surprised if bodies were found under the ruins below these windows on the Lucas avenue side of the building.

Deputy Coroner Furlong said the inquest would not be held until next week, as the Coroner's office will wait until searchers have had a thorough opportunity to remove debris and find bodies of fire victims.

The date of the inquest will be announced later, and subpenas will be issued for many witnesses, including officials of the M. A. C. and the Boatmen's Bank, fire and city officials, and any other persons who might be considered able to throw some light upon the cause of the fire and why the building was used for lodging purposes when the city officials had held it to be a firetrap.

Coroner Padberg said no one would be spared in the Coroner's effort to fix the responsibility for the deaths of the M. A. C. guests. He also will seek to fix the responsibility for the existence of the M. A. C. firetrap after Fire Chief Swingley had warned the club officials the building was not up to the lodging house standards.

The Coroner's jury which has been sitting at inquests all this week has been chosen to hear the testimony in the M. A. C. inquest. It is comprised of Thomas D. Henneberry, 1809 Rutger street; Raymond Cahill, 4756 Kennerly avenue; Julius F. Vogel, 3049 Thomas street; James Gardner, 1452 Webster avenue; W. J. Wilmen, 1410 Grattan street, and Oliver Schuchardt, 1611 Chambers street.

FIRE DAMAGE IS $500,000 WITH $400,000 INSURANCE

The Missouri Athletic Club fire caused a property loss estimated at about $500,000, covered by insurance of about $400,000. This is the estimate of officials of the Boatmen's Bank, M. A. C., of two business firms which suffered losses and the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The bank carried $200,000 insurance on the building and $5000 on furniture and fixtures. It also had an annual rental policy for $18,000, payable in the interim required to put up a new building.

The club's equipment was valued at $200,000, which was protected by $100,000 insurance. This is payable to the bank, as the policy had been carried by the bank against the club's indebtedness of about $113,000.

The St. Louis Seed Co.'s loss on building, stock and fixtures will be about $50,000. It carries $63,000 insurance.

The Hub Furniture Co.'s loss is estimated at about $25,000, covered by insurance. The damage was largely to its stock of goods stored in the basement. The basement was flooded.

Assembly Calls for List of Fire Traps to Make It Public

the Municipal Assembly bill after bill to provide for greater protection of the lives of the occupants of hotels, lodging houses and other public places.

The Assembly appointed a joint committee comprised of Councilmen Koenig, Fletcher and Hermann and Delegates Scully, Hoffner and Wyrick to conduct a thorough investigation of the M. A. C. disaster. The resolution authorizing the committee was introduced in the Council by Dr. Paul R. Fletcher, and was passed unanimously by both houses.

M. A. C. Board Early Witnesses.

The Board of Governors of the Missouri Athletic Club and Building Commissioner McKelvey will be among the first witnesses summoned Thursday by the joint committee of the Assembly.

"I am convinced that some other method than police court prosecution for violations of the building code must be employed to protect the public from death traps that exist in St. Louis," said Chairman Fletcher to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Fletcher alluded to the legal opinion of Assistant City Counselor Griffin, published Tuesday in the Post-Dispatch, in which it was stated the city had authority to summarily close any building which the Building Department believed to be a menace to life in case of fire.

"If the city may exercise such regulation of hotels and clubs, I am inclined to think it is our duty to do so speedily and prevent a recurrence of the catastrophe that has shocked the whole nation," said Fletcher.

He will request City Counselor Baird to assign Griffin to assist the committee in its inquiry by conducting the examination of witnesses.

The resolution in the Assembly set forth that it had been stated that the Missouri Athletic Club building was not equipped with such safety appliances as automatic sprinklers and proper fire escapes, and that the character of the building was such as to make it unsafe for use as a lodging house.

The joint committee was given the power to subpena witnesses and compel the production of books and papers for the purpose of thoroughly investigating the disaster and determining the responsibility for it. The object of this investigation, it was stated, was to determine whether existing ordinances should be strengthened, and whether, if it should be found that they were sufficient, those charged with their proper enforcement had been negligent and should be disciplined for their dereliction.

List of Fire Traps Requested.

It was resolved further "that the Building Commissioner be requested to submit to this joint committee for its information a complete list of all buildings in the city of St. Louis now used as hotels, lodging houses or places of public amusement or congregation which are, according to his information, dangerous and unsafe.

WANTS MANICURES LISTED

Delegates Would Prevent Invasion by Expelled Women.

Acting upon reports that many women recently expelled from the segregated districts were planning to masquerade as "chiropodists and manicures" in residential districts, Speaker Gazzolo of the House of Delegates Tuesday asked that the Police Department furnish a list of all now conducting such businesses.

A resolution was adopted by the House, asking that the length of time in the profession and the previous occupation of the practitioner also be given.

MENEFEE ASKS McKELVEY TO LOOK FOR LOST GEMS

Workmen Ordered to Separate Clothing and Personal Belongings From Debris.

H. R. Menefee, secretary of the Moon Bros. Carriage Co., one of those who escaped, asked McKelvey if someone could visit room 47 on the sixth floor, to see whether jewelry, valued by Menefee at $800, was still on the dresser in his room, where he said he had left it. McKelvey told him firemen had inspected all the rooms that were accessible, and had not reported finding any jewelry.

The workmen were directed that any articles of clothing, or personal belongings, which they might find in the ruins, should be kept separate from the debris.

One of the first finds of this sort was the discovery of the coat and vest of D. C. Holmes, of the Hargadine-McKittrick Dry Goods Co., one of those who escaped.

Searchers in the ruins Wednesday found a pocketbook containing cards, receipts and memoranda indicating that it belonged to Frank W. Albright. In it were two receipts showing that Albright deposited with the Mercantile Trust Co. stock of the Rice-Stix Dry Goods Co. to the value of $4740 in July, 1912, and stock of the same company to the value of $5760, Feb. 21, 1914.

WALKER HILL CONSIDERED FOR RESERVE BANK BOARD

St. Louis Banker Mentioned in Washington as Probable Appointee of President.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Walker Hill, president of the Mechanics-American National Bank of St. Louis, is being considered for a place on the Federal Reserve Board which will administer the new currency system. He is accounted one of the leading bankers of the Middle West.

Hill is a native Virginian and was prominent in banking circles there prior to 1905, when he went to St. Louis to become president of the American Exchange National Bank and later became president of its successor, the Mechanics-American National. He was born in 1855 and began working in a bank as a messenger.

White House officials said no selections had been made.

THREE NEARBY BUILDINGS ARE TO BE CONDEMNED

Building Commissioner Declares Effects of M. A. C. Fire Has Made Them Unsafe.

The three buildings on Fourth street, most nearly adjoining the burned M. A. C., will be condemned, Building Commissioner McKelvey announced Wednesday at the fire scene. They are those occupied by the A. G. Beckmann Commission Co., 615 North Fourth street; the St. Louis Poultry Supply Co., at 617, and the Bentzen Commission Co., at 619.

The Beckmann and Poultry Supply companies' buildings, the Commissioner said, were injured by the fire to an extent which makes them unsafe, and the wall of the Bentzen company building had buckled since the fire. Plans for repairing the Bentzen building are being considered.

Omaha Rejects New Charter.

OMAHA, Neb., March 11.—Voters of Omaha at a special election yesterday defeated a new charter recently framed by a special charter commission, authorized by the last Legislature. A proposal to issue bonds in the sum of $250,000 for the purchase and refinishing of a city auditorium was also defeated.

Our Exhibition and Sale of New Spring Merchandise Is an Event That Every Woman Should Attend

Every woman should attend this Exhibition and Sale because here she will find a great variety of all that is newest and best in the World of Fashion and also for household use.

As the styles are now established for Spring many are making their purchases this week and this is especially desirable where exclusive styles are concerned as we will not, of course, duplicate them.

The Style Pageant Shows the Styles From 1800 to 1914

It is indeed a privilege to be offered the opportunity of seeing the original garments, bonnets, shawls, etc., that were in use at the different periods from 1800 to 1914. We hope that if you were not among the thousands who have already viewed this very interesting exhibit that you will do so before its close next Saturday. One of the interesting articles of apparel is a shawl that belonged to the mother of President Abraham Lincoln's wife.

Many New Costumes Have Been Received Since Monday

We feel confident, from the many expressions of approval we have heard on every side, that the throngs of women who have visited our Costume Salon so far this week have felt well repaid for the time spent. We feel safe in saying that never in the history of this department have the costumes been so varied, so beautiful or that have we had so many that were inexpensive.

For tomorrow we shall have many new garments that have never been shown before, in fact you can come every day and find much that is new to interest you.

Many new Taffeta and Flowered Crepe Frocks are exhibited in a wonderful array of styles. The trimmings, which are very simple, tone beautifully with the soft colorings used. Bustle and wing draperies predominate although we are featuring, as well, the very long tunic which is quite ultra fashionable. Vivid and soft colorings are equally as much in demand and are especially beautiful.

Note These Inexpensive New Garments

We are showing reproductions of late foreign models at prices that range from $39.00 to $59.50

A lovely Canton Crepe Frock; has long box-plaited tunic, novelty girdle and long sleeves of chiffon. It is a splendid value at $35.00

$8.00 Tennis Racquet at $3.00 —A Sensational Sale

Tomorrow we shall begin what we believe to be the most important sale of Tennis Racquets ever held in this section of the country. These Racquets were made by one of the largest and most noted factories in the United States and on account of the extraordinarily low price at which they are offered we are not permitted to mention the manufacturer's name.

The frames of these racquets are made of especially selected ash, while the gut used for the stringing is of the best and is celebrated for its life and driving qualities.

We have several models from which you may select, none of which sell regularly for less than $8.00 each.

The expert or novice will do well to share in this sensational sale because it is rare that an opportunity is offered to buy a standard $8.00 racquet at the extraordinarily low price of $3.00

Racquet Covers

In connection with the above sale of racquets we shall offer an odd lot of Racquet Covers which have been specially priced for this occasion at 40c to $1.25

SLEEPING ROOMS AT M. A. C. WERE BUILT WITHOUT PERMIT

Building Commissioner's Records Show Authority to Construct 48 Rooms Was Revoked When 98 Were Put in; Work Begun Before Right Was Granted.

The alterations by which the fifth and sixth floors of the Missouri Athletic Club were converted into sleeping quarters for members and guests were made without a permit from the Building Commissioner's office, in 1903, after C. F. Longfellow, then Building Commissioner, had revoked the original permit because the club had violated its conditions.

James N. McKelvey, the present Building Commissioner, Wednesday verified this after a Post-Dispatch reporter had found the original records in the files of McKelvey's office.

"The original permit issued by Longfellow was for the installation of 43 sleeping rooms in the club building," said McKelvey. "The permit was revoked when it was found that they were putting in 97 sleeping rooms.

"All of the work done after the revoking of the permit was illegal. When I took office there was nothing I could do to remedy this violation of the law. It had already been countenanced by two administrations. I could only see that the ordinance regulations as to exit lights and fire escapes were complied with."

Application Considered for Month.

Records in the Building Commissioner's office show that an application for a permit to build sleeping rooms on the fifth and sixth floors of the Boatmen's Bank Building and to construct a swimming pool in the basement was made to Building Commissioner Longfellow March 3, 1903. The application was held under consideration for a month while inspectors of the Building Commissioner's office made an investigation to determine whether the permit should be granted.

The permit was issued April 3, 1903. It showed that the owner of the building was the Boatmen's Bank, the architects were Barnett, Haynes & Barnett, and the contractor who was to make the alterations was James H. Bright. The estimated cost of the work was $50,000.

A. J. Cochran, then an inspector in the Building Commissioner's office, made the favorable report on which the permit was granted. At the bottom of this report he wrote: "There are to be 48 rooms on the fifth and sixth floors." The permit was numbered D8082.

Work Begun Before Permit Was Issued.

The record shows that work on the alterations was begun before the permit was issued. An entry dated "March, 1903," shows that C. Kelleher, an inspector, reported that in excavating a sub-basement to make a swimming pool, the contractor had dug below the level of the foundation walls and below the bases of the iron columns which supported the building. Kelleher, in this report, said that Contractor Bright, when asked why the work was being done before a permit had been issued, replied that "the owners were in a hurry."

It appears from the record that Building Commissioner Longfellow wrote letters of protest to W. H. Thomson, cashier of the Boatmen's Bank, and to Leslie Marmaduke, president of the club, which was then known by its corporate name, The Missouri Amusement and Athletic Supply Co.

Marmaduke, on April 1, 1903, replied that he regretted it had been found necessary to start the work while the application for a permit was still pending, but that there had been so many delays in getting the club started that it had been deemed advisable to make the alterations as quickly as possible.

Thomson on the same day replied that while the Boatmen's Bank owned the building, it had nothing to do with the alterations which were being made for lessees.

Permit Issued Two Days Later.

Building Commissioner Longfellow seems to have accepted these explanations. Two days after receiving these replies from Marmaduke and Thomson he issued the permit.

The record contains a letter written to Contractor Bright by Frank R. Tate, then first vice-president of the Missouri Athletic Club on April 8, in which Tate instructs Bright to proceed with the erection of sleeping rooms on the fifth and sixth floors "in accordance with the original plans."

The next entry in the record shows that on April 16 Longfellow wrote a letter to Matthew Kiely, then Chief of Police, notifying him that the permit for the alterations had been revoked.

On the same day Longfellow notified W. H. Thomson, of the Boatmen's Bank, that the permit had been revoked because of "material deviations" from the plans outlined in the original application.

After revoking the permit Longfellow seems to have kept in close touch with the work through his inspectors. On April 17, the day after the revocation, Inspector Cochran reported that the club was installing "about 97 rooms, which is more than the application called for."

Longfellow had written to James H. Bright, the contractor, protesting against this increase in the number of sleeping rooms. Bright, under the date, April 15, 1903, replied that the building of additional sleeping rooms had been ordered by Frank R. Tate, first vice-president of the club, and that as a contractor he was required to carry out these orders.

Case Gets Into Court.

Inspector Cochran in a report dated, "April, 1903," informed the Building Commissioner that the contractors' workmen were removing the fireproofing from the beams on the fifth and sixth floors and had failed to remove the window frames and replace them with fireproof steel frames as called for in the permit. He again reported that they were putting in 97 sleeping rooms instead of the 48 authorized in the permit.

The record shows that Longfellow had officials of the club summoned into court April 22, 1903, for violation of the building code and that the case was continued to April 29. The final outcome of this prosecution is not shown in the record. The last entry is a sheet of paper on which is written the one word, "complete." This is dated Sept. 25, 1903, and signed "Denny, inspector."

SALT LAKE WATER USED AS TIMBER PRESERVATIVE

Forest Experts Discover Logs Immersed in Brine Are Kept Perfectly for 50 Years.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Experts of the Forest Service have discovered that the waters of the Great Salt Lake act as a preservative against decay in timbers. For years they have been conducting experiments to find a treatment that would preserve poles and railroad ties.

In replacing a railroad trestle recently burned along the north shore of the Great Salt Lake. It was found that the piles were perfectly sound after 43 years of service. In looking for the cause, since the piles were only of local pine and fir, it was discovered that the timbers were impregnated with salt. Other instances are given. In one case timber was perfectly preserved after 50 years of service.

Forest experts suggest that ties and poles immersed in these waters can be made more impervious to decay by painting the butt of the pole with creosote, which will keep out the moisture and keep in the salt.

$500 REWARD OFFERED FOR SHOE CO. ROBBERS

Bonding Concern Detectives Take Up Search for Men Who Got $10,615 From Paymaster

The Fidelity and Casualty Co. of New York, in which the Brown Shoe Co. payroll was insured against loss in any manner, Wednesday announced that it would pay a reward of $500 for the capture of one or both of the robbers, who last Friday held up Paymaster John T. Lucas and Robert Corlett, a salesman of the Brown Shoe Co., and got away with $10,615.25, which was being taken to the factory at Eighteenth and Wash streets.

The insurance concern also announced that they would give a reward of 10 per cent of all the money recovered. Private detectives under Mark Shipley, secret service agent of the Fidelity and Casualty Co., are aiding the police in the search for the robbers. They have sent circulars all over the country describing the robbers.

Shipley thinks much time was lost in taking the chauffeur to three different police stations to investigate his story, when they might have been using his automobile to pursue the robbers.

SHERIFF CITED FOR FAILURE TO ARREST BIXBY

Dickmann Summoned Before Clay County Court in Suit Against Wabash.

Failure of deputies in Sheriff Dickmann's office to arrest Frederick A. Delano, William K. Bixby and Edward B. Pryor, receivers of the Wabash Railroad, on indictments charging them with violating the local option laws of Clay County because liquor was sold on dining cars passing through that county, resulted in the issuance in the Clay County Circuit Court of a contempt summons against the sheriff Tuesday.

Dispatches from Liberty, Mo., to the Post-Dispatch Wednesday said that Circuit Judge Frank P. Divelbiss had issued the citation, ordering the Sheriff to appear in court in Liberty, Monday, and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. The citation was mailed to Coroner Padberg for service on the Sheriff.

The indictments were found by the grand jury in November, and were sent to Sheriff Dickmann Dec. 9. Chief Service Deputy Schilling said that the warrants had been placed in the hands of a new deputy, who had failed to make a return on them, and that they had been mislaid and forgotten. Chief Deputy Kilcullen called the clerk of the court at Liberty, and then notified Sheriff Dickmann to go to the Coroner's office to accept service of the citation.

The warrants do not show whether the deputy served the receivers.

Judge Divelbiss, dispatches state, in issuing the citation said:

"Under the law these warrants should have been served at once and bonds made, or the defendants taken in custody. I am advised that the warrants were merely read to the receivers, but no return of any kind has ever been made to the court."

Has Personally Tested Plant Juice, the New Vegetable Remedy, and Praises It.

Rev. Phillip Studt, a minister and missionary of the German Lutheran church, who lives at 3403 Ninth and a Half avenue, in Rock Island, Ill., and who is at present doing missionary work there and at Coal Valley and Sherrad, Ill., has the following to say about Plant Juice:

"I have suffered considerably with stomach and liver trouble for a long time; was constipated and bilious, weak and restless. My sleep did not seem to rest me and I woke up tired and without any energy. I started taking Plant Juice and found almost instant relief. It has helped my general condition wonderfully. I sleep well and have a good appetite now. My health is better in every way than it has been for a long time, and I can conscientiously recommend it to others."

There are hundreds of people in this city who are half sick, dyspeptic, debilitated, nervous, depressed, who lack vitality and strength, have headaches, dizzy spells, pains across the back or in the joints, poor circulation, constipation or biliousness; they cannot assimilate their food and consequently get no strength from what they eat. To these people, and all who have any derangement whatever of the stomach, kidneys, liver, nerves or blood, Plant Juice will prove to be a blessing and just what they need. SHOW GIRL WHO DISCOVERED FIRE TELLS EXPERIENCE

Adelaide Mason Heard Roar and What Seemed to Be Commotion Upstairs.

Miss Adelaide Mason, 20 years old, a dancing girl who plays the role of "Rosie" in the Weber & Fields tabloid musical comedy at the Shubert Theater this week, is the young woman who discovered the Missouri Athletic Club fire. Her identity was established for the first time Wednesday by a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Miss Mason was standing in the M. A. C. lobby while her escort, Ludwig Eisemann, was in a booth telephoning for a taxicab. She looked out into Washington avenue and saw the reflection of the flames in the windows of the J. Kennard & Sons Carpet Co., across the street, and realized that the M. A. C. was afire. Her screams of fire caused the night clerk and night telephone boy to make their heroic efforts to arouse the guests in the club.

Miss Mason, in her dressing room at the theater, told a reporter of her experience.

Heard a Muffled Roar.

"I had been dining at the club with Mr. Eisemann and we had just started for home," she said. He left me in the lobby, while he went to telephone for a taxi. Suddenly I heard what seemed to be a muffled roar. There followed quickly the sound of breaking glass. Then I saw the reflection of flames in the windows of the carpet house across the street. There seemed to be a commotion in the upper floors of the club.

"I rushed to the night clerk and cried: 'The whole place is on fire. Run for your life.'

"He stared at me as if he thought I was crazy, and then there was a crash, louder than the preceding ones, and he betrayed real alarm, and called to the telephone operator to sound the alarm of fire.

"My escort had joined me by this time and he fairly carried me out of the building and across the street.

Second and Third Floors Ablaze.

"From that point it appeared that the entire second and third floors were one mass of flames. We saw men throwing open windows and waving their hands and calling 'Fire,' and we could make out their forms darting frantically here and there in the smoke.

"Just as the first fire engine came up a man mounted the casement of his window, paused for a minute and then dropped silently to the stone sidewalk below. I grew faint and dizzy then.

"Mr. Eisemann took me out of the crowd to the American Hotel. But I could not sleep, and from the window in my room I could see the flames as they mounted skyward."

Miss Mason lives in New York. She says she has been on the stage eight years.

FIRE STARTED IN DINING ROOM, IS EMPLOYE'S BELIEF

Checkman Tells Police His Theory Curtain Caught From Cigarette or Match.

Tom Rowe, who was in charge of the M. A. C. checkroom and whose son, Norman Rowe, was night telephone operator at the club, told at Police Headquarters Tuesday afternoon of his belief that the fire was caused by the throwing of a cigarette or a match into a curtain by some member of an after-theater supper party in the third-floor dining room. Rowe and his son will be two of the most important witnesses in the Coroner's inquest.

Rowe said the party consisted of eight or nine young men, and that they were sober and comparatively quiet, but that they lingered in the dining room so late that he did not wait for them to disperse, but went home at 1:15 a. m.

Discovery of the Fire.

As Rowe went out, he said, he told Clerk Reisinger that it would not be necessary to keep the elevator man. "When those fellows get ready to go down," he said, "Norman can take them down." Accordingly, he said, Reisinger told him to send the elevator man home, and he did so.

Rowe said he later learned from his son that the young men left at 1:30 a. m. Norman Rowe taking them down in the elevator. It was 10 minutes later, Rowe said he was told, that a waiter smelled smoke coming from the dining room, but did not investigate it. He did not learn this waiter's name. At about 1:50 a. m. the fire was discovered by a young woman in the lobby whose escort was phoning for a taxicab and by the watchman of the Boatmen's Bank, who saw a flame reflected in windows across the street. All accounts have pointed to the third, or dining room, floor, as the place where the fire started.

Tells of Previous Fires.

Rowe said that, in his belief, a match or a cigarette, tossed into a curtain or into a crumpled corner of a carpet, started the blaze.

He also said there had been two previous fires at the M. A. C. within a month. About the middle of February, he said, some rags, thrown on the roof of the Lucas avenue addition, took fire from a hot pipe, and the night engineer, discovering the blaze, telephoned for the Salvage Corps. He did not wish to turn in a fire alarm for fear of disturbing the guests. The Salvage Corps men succeeded in handling the fire.

A few nights later, he said, a match, tossed into one of the new portieres in the main corridor, ignited it, and Robert Niedringhaus tore it down and stamped out the fire.

Rowe also said $3000 worth of maple flooring was piled in the gymnasium on the seventh floor, where it had been planned to install a handball court.

ESCAPING GAS FED THE FLAMES

Leaking Main Kept Fire Alive on East Side—Six Explosions Tuesday.

Fire Chief Swingley, in resuming his investigation Wednesday into the origin of the Missouri Athletic Club fire, centered his attention upon a theory that gas escaping from a six-inch main in the building caused the flames to spread through the seven-story structure with lightning-like rapidity, cutting off the escape of at least 30 guests who lost their lives.

Assistant Fire Chief Salmon, who was in charge of the fire Tuesday, submitted a report earlier in the day, in which he stated that gas escaping from this main had caused the fire to burn steadily and fiercely for 37 hours. Between 2 and 6 a. m. Tuesday, he reported, there were six separate explosions caused by gas, all from a leaking main on the Fourth street side, about midway of the building.

"Every time we thought we had put out the fire there would be another explosion and the flames would break forth with renewed energy," Salmon reported. "The fire finally was put out at 3 p. m. Tuesday, when we dug a hole and shut off the gas main."

This hole was dug in Fourth street, about 30 feet east of the building line.

A bill to prevent a repetition of this was introduced in the House of Delegates Tuesday night by Delegate John R. McCarthy. The bill provides that hotels, theaters, office buildings, factories and other structures where persons congregate in great numbers shall be compelled to install automatic shut-off valves on gas mains entering the buildings. This shut-off is a metal filament that fuses under high temperature and automatically closes the main.

The bill also provides a pull box shall be attached on the outside of a building so that firemen can pull a lever and operate a valve which cuts off the supply of gas in the main, preventing it from pouring into the burning building.

VARIETY OF ARTICLES TAKEN FROM RUINS

Property Stored at Police Station—Box Guarded All Night Contained Fishing Tackle.

Policemen Wednesday afternoon took to the Carr Street Police Station two cloth sacks filled with articles picked up in the M. A. C. ruins by firemen and workmen. Among the articles were two nickel watches, a gold fob, two cigar holders, a woman's bracelet, five emblematic buttons, books, papers and clothing. One of the buttons was an Apollo Club emblem and one was engraved "National Union." Two were engraved with the word "Wabash" and the other bore a design of a star and flag.

A locked box found by firemen Tuesday and guarded by the police all night in the belief that it contained jewels, was opened and found to contain fishing tackle.

THIEF FOUND AMONG LABORERS IN THE RUINS

A man put to work by Building Commissioner McKelvey at Fourth street and Washington avenue Wednesday morning as a wrecker on the M. A. C. fire ruins, was recognized by a policeman, who said the man was a notorious character and had been arrested several times for theft.

He immediately was taken off the work and was held by the police to identify questionable characters who might loiter about the ruins or mingle with the crowd.

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling. I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R. F. D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Price of London Times Reduced.

LONDON, March 11.—Announcement that the London Times, which hitherto has been sold for 6 cents a copy, would be sold for 2 cents, was made today. The reduction is said to be due to Lord Northcliffe's domination of the paper, and will place the Times on a price level with the Daily Telegraph, the Morning Post and the Standard.

25 CENT-A-DAY MAN DEMANDS $5.23 RAISE

Illinois County Auditor Also Mandamuses Board for a Real Office and Something to Do.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Frank Saunders, Kane County's $1.75-a-week auditor, who has been drawing down 25 cents a day regularly since he qualified for office in 1912 without doing a "gol durned lick of auditing" (as his political enemies have pointed out), filed a mandamus suit against the Board of Supervisors in the Circuit Court today, demanding:

Some work to do—

A real office, equipped with desk, chair, scrap paper basket and cuspidor—

And a raise in salary to $2000 a year, or $5.48 a day, which is $5.23 more than he is getting.

The quarter-a-day salary was the Supervisors' idea of a clever little joke. They didn't want an auditor badly, yet were required to have one to comply with the law.

FIRST FUNERAL OF FIRE VICTIMS IS TOMORROW

Interurban Specials to Carry Delegations to William E. Erd's Burial at Waterloo, Ill.

The funeral of William E. Erd, lawyer and real estate dealer, of East St. Louis, who lost his life in the M. A. C. fire, will be held at 9:30 a. m. Thursday, in Waterloo, Ill., probably from the home of his father, Judge Erd. It will be the first burial of M. A. C. fire victims.

Special cars on the Columbia & Waterloo interurban lines will leave East St. Louis at 7:30 a. m., carrying a delegation from the East St. Louis Lodge of Elks, of which Erd was a member, and several of his business and personal friends. George Ziebold and George Ziebold Jr., both of Waterloo, have been appointed a special committee to represent the M. A. C. at the funeral.

John N. Virdin, chairman of the special committee, and L. J. Jones, secretary, with headquarters on the nineteenth floor of the Railway Exchange Building, announce the committee is ready to give all assistance in its power to relatives and friends of the dead and missing in arranging for funerals, transportation of bodies and searching the ruins for bodies.

Committees will be appointed to represent the club at funerals in St. Louis, and bodies transported to other points will be escorted by a special appointee if relatives desire.

The League of Electrical Interests has appointed A. P. Stock and W. E. Brock to accompany to Kansas City the body of Burt Crouch, assistant sales manager of the Western Electric Co., and widely known throughout St. Louis trade territory.

Father Searching for Son.

John W. Albright, president of the International Trust and Savings Bank, Gary, Ind., arrived in St. Louis Tuesday afternoon and took up the search for the body of his son, William H. Albright, of St. Louis, who was a salesman for the Rice-Stix Dry Goods Co.

A close friend of J. L. Haehnlen, engineer of the coke plant of the Laclede Gas Light Co., who is among the victims, declared Wednesday that Haehnlen, while chatting with friends in the company's office a few days prior to the fire, remarked he carried too much fire insurance and made a casual list of policies aggregating $30,000.

Immediately after the fire these policies were found, with a note saying they were payable to Haehnlen's parents, who were notified. A sister is expected to arrive in St. Louis Wednesday night, and probably will stop at the home of W. G. McGuire, Webster Groves.

In Haehnlen's desk papers were found showing he was a thirty-second degree Mason. He came to St. Louis recently to take a position with the company overseeing the erection of the Carondelet coke plant. He was popular among his business associates.

In the Probate Court Tuesday Thomas W. Kinser was appointed administrator for the estate of his son, William J. Kinser, treasurer of the Kinser Construction Co., St. Louis, whose body was recovered. Kinser's estate is estimated at $87,000, and his heirs are his wife, Hannah, in New York, and his parents, who live at the Planters Hotel.

M. Abraham of 4338 Morgan street and Joseph Byrne of 3815 Flad avenue were appointed administrators of the estate of Marshall Bier, the fur dealer, whose body also was recovered. His estate is valued at $50,000. His father, Isaac, of New York, is one of the heirs.

James P. Newell, Public Administrator, was appointed to take charge of the estates of George Goener, Edwin C. Kessler and F. W. Albright. Other applications for administratorship of estates of fire victims are expected to be filed today and tomorrow.

Advices from New York say Allen Dow, who is among the missing, was employed as a buyer by lace merchants at 31 Union Square, Manhattan, and resided with his wife and four children in the St. George Hotel, in Brooklyn. His employers have telegraphed B. Nugent & Bro. Dry Goods Co., where Dow was buyer and manager of the lace and embroidery department, instructing officials to exert every effort to recover Dow's body from the ruins.

Mrs. Katherine Teuscher and Miss Anna Becker of South Bend, Ind., sisters of William E. Becker, arrived in St. Louis, Tuesday, and are at the home of Edward C. Becker, 5870 Cabanne avenue.

Wife of Ranus in New York.

Arthur T. Ranus, one of the victims, for many years resided in Mount Vernon, N. Y., as special agent for the New York Underwriters Association. Three years ago he was transferred from New York to Illinois, where he remained until Feb. 1, when he was assigned to Missouri. He selected St Louis as his headquarters, and, being a nonresident member of the Missouri Athletic Club, went there to live until he could arrange to go to housekeeping in the West End. Mrs. Ranus and their young son have been visiting in New York. She has been notified of her husband's death and as soon as his body is identified it will be forwarded to her in New York.

William M. Hoppe, State Inspector of the Fire Marshal's department for the State of Illinois, said Ranus dined with him in Belleville Wednesday evening. That was the last time he saw him. Hoppe is leading the friends who are searching for the body.

Clarence and Walter Ruff of Dallas, Tex., brothers of Lucius P. Ruff, a department manager for the Simmons Hardware Co., who died in the fire, are expected to arrive in St. Louis today, to assist Mrs. Edmund E. Hoch, a sister, and her husband, who are at the home of Charles H. McKee, 5116 Cabanne avenue, in the identification of Ruff's body. The body once was identified by a gold tooth as that of Allen R. Hancock, but this was repudiated by Hancock's dentist. Hoch desires to confer with any dentist's who may have done work for Ruff, in the hope they may be able to assist in the identification.

HYOMEI RELIEVES IN FIVE MINUTES

You Breathe It

If your head is all stuffed up from a cold or catarrh, you suffer with dull headaches and seem lacking in vitality, or are constantly sniffling and coughing, you need a remedy that will give the quickest, most effective and lasting relief possible—something that will go right to the spot, clear the head and throat and end your misery.

Surely use Hyomei—all druggists sell it. It is just such a remedy, and is entirely harmless and pleasant to use—you breathe it—no stomach dosing.

The antiseptic oils of Hyomei mix with the air you breathe—its health-giving medication immediately reaches the sore and inflamed mucous membrane—you feel better in five minutes. It is practically impossible to use Hyomei and not only be relieved but permanently benefited. Your money refunded if you are not satisfied. Ask for the complete outfit.—$1.00 size.—ADV.

SUFFRAGISTS FIRE TOWN

Destroy All Public Buildings in Bulcole, England.

NOTINGHAM, England, March 11.—A suffragette arson squad early today set fire to and destroyed all the buildings belonging to the town corporation at Bulcole, six miles northeast of this city.

The loss is many thousands of dollars. Suffrage literature was strewn in the vicinity.

FEEL YOUNG!

It's Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for You!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the jaded bowel muscles with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. Take one or two occasionally and have no trouble with your liver, bowels or stomach. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.

WIN A PRIZE

Each one of these four lines of figures spells a word. This most interesting puzzle can be solved with a little study and as follows: There are twenty-six letters in the alphabet, and we have used figures in spelling the four words instead of letters. Letter A is number 1, B number 2, C number 3, etc., throughout the alphabet. IF YOU CAN SPELL OUT THESE FOUR WORDS WE WILL SEND YOU A SURPRISE PACKET CONTAINING 5 BEAUTIFUL GOLD EMBOSSED EASTER POST CARDS, ALSO A CERTIFICATE OF ENTRY in our GRAND $5,000.00 PRIZE CONTEST. All you have to do is to confuse with your answer 2 two-cent stamps to cover cost of packing, mailing, etc. USE YOUR BRAINS. Try and make out the four words. ACT QUICKLY. Write the four words on a slip of paper, mail it immediately with your name and address and 4 cents in stamps. And you will receive as your reward this SURPRISE PACKET, which is a handsome assortment of five beautifully colored Gold Embossed Easter post cards, together with a copy of a New York Magazine, also a CERTIFICATE OF ENTRY in our GRAND $5000.00 PRIZE CONTEST, which closes April 30th, 1914. Act promptly. This is your opportunity to enter this great contest in which we give away THREE AUTOMOBILES, PIANO, PHONOGRAPH, GOLD WATCHES, CASH PRIZES, etc. In case of a tie between two or more people, a prize identical in character and value will be given each person so tied. EATING MEAT REGULARLY CLOGS THE KIDNEYS, CAUSING PAINS IN THE BACK

Don't fail to flush your Kidneys occasionally with a tablespoonful of harmless fruit Salts to avoid danger.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—ADV.

The Only Death-Proof Buildings

It is time that St. Louis business men realize that buildings protected by automatic sprinklers are the only death-proof buildings in the world.

In the 16,900 fires put out by Grinnell Automatic Sprinklers, not one life was lost.

All these sprinkler systems were in dangerous combustible buildings, yet not one single life was lost.

More people were in these 16,900 combustible buildings when they caught fire than are living today in all St. Louis, yet not one single life was lost.

It is time St. Louis parents realize the danger in St. Louis schools. Cleveland parents realize it and are demanding automatic sprinklers in mass meetings.

On March — Captain Lynch perished in a fire that threatened to sweep away blocks of thriving businesses. Other fire heroes escaped by only a hair's breadth.

On March 9th came the Missouri Athletic Club fire.

Contrast this week's death record in St. Louis with the 30 years' death-proof record of

GRINNELL Automatic Sprinklers

In buildings made death-proof by Grinnells, hundreds of thousands of men, women and children have heard the cry of fire—but none perished. Today Grinnells safeguard the lives of more than 2,000,000 people in stores, factories, hotels, club-houses, schools, asylums, etc.

Grinnell Automatic Sprinklers reduce fire loss 96 2-5 per cent. They reduce insurance rates 40 per cent to 90 per cent. Reduced premiums save enough in a few years to pay for a Grinnell system.

EDWIN O. STANARD IS FOUND DEAD IN BED AT HIS HOME

Former Lieutenant-Governor of Missouri Retired in Seeming Good Health, Family Says.

Edwin O. Stanard, president of the Stanard-Tilton Milling Co., former Lieutenant-Governor of Missouri, and for many years an active figure in the business life of St. Louis, was found dead in bed at his home, 4499 Lindell boulevard, Wednesday morning, by a maid who had gone to his room to awaken him. Heart disease was given by members of the family as the cause of death. He was 82 years old.

W. K. Stanard of 4548 West Pine boulevard, his son, and vice-president of the milling company, said his father had been in good health and retired at 9 p. m. Tuesday, apparently feeling well.

Stanard was at his office for a short time Tuesday, returning home late in the afternoon. After dinner he sat reading until 9 o'clock, when he retired.

His daughter, Mrs. J. F. Shoemaker, who lives with him, is in Florida, where she has been spending the winter. She was notified of his death, and no funeral arrangements will be made until word is received from her. She cannot reach St Louis before Friday.

Stanard was born in Newport, N. H., Jan. 5, 1832. His father moved to Iowa in 1836. Stanard came to St. Louis when a young man, and later resided in Madison County, Ill., where he taught school for three years.

In 1858, he came to St. Louis and opened a commission house, and in 1865 founded the milling company.

He had not been a sufferer from heart disease and was considered by his family and friends to be remarkably active for a man of his age. He had not given up his business activities and visited his office each day, though the greater part of the work was conducted by his son.

He had been active in the Merchants' Exchange and in the business life of St. Louis. He was elected Lieutenant-Governor on the McClurg ticket in 1886, the only year the Republican gubernatorial ticket was elected in Missouri from the time of the Civil War until Hadley was elected Governor in 1908.

He was a director of the St. Louis Union Trust Co. and of the Boatmen's Bank.

Mrs. Stanard died in 1906. W. K. Stanard and Mrs. Shoemaker are the only immediate members of the family surviving him.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES TO CHANGE ITTNER CONTRACT

Committee Suggests Retention of Architect if He Will Agree to New Terms.

The Building Committee of the Board of Education Tuesday night recommended, and the board voted, to reemploy William B. Ittner as architect, if he would agree to a new contract, the provisions of which the members of the board refused to make public at this time.

Ittner's fees, consisting of a commission of 3 per cent on all new school buildings erected and remodeled have aggregated more than $100,000 during the four years he has served as architect. Of this, $24,339 was paid to him as commissions on the building of the Harney Heights School, the Bryan Hill School, the Penrose School and the Laclede School, all of which are exactly alike, and the plans were drawn by Ittner while he was employed as Commissioner of Public School Buildings at a salary of $6500 a year.

By adopting the report of the committee, the board left the framing of the new contract entirely in the hands of the Building Committee, of which Dr. Emil Simon is chairman.

STRANGER STABS MAN

Paul Gibson Attacked While Looking for Patrolman.

Paul Gibson, 34 years old, a steamfitter, living at 1600 Olive street, was stabbed in the left breast by one of two foreigners he was attempting to have arrested at 1 a. m. Wednesday. His wound is not serious.

Gibson told the police he was in the saloon of John Wall at Fifteenth and Olive streets when two men entered. They were quarreling. Gibson says the saloon keeper asked him to look for a policeman, and that when he left the saloon the two men followed him and one stabbed him.

Chic Spring Suits and Coats

At a Price Which Thousands of Women Care to Pay—

$24.75

"One of the lessons" of the Formal Openings during the past days proved this store's readiness to show large varieties of authentic modes in highest class garments.

We wish now to emphasize the fact that we are equally prepared to serve your every want in moderately-priced garments.

Equal effort has been put forth to give the maximum of style and the maximum of value in these garments priced within the reach of all.

Dwelling Further on the Group of Suits and Coats at $24.75

The materials and workmanship are, of course, of the highest quality, for we insist upon the well-known S-B-F quality standard being maintained in every garment which enters into these stocks.

We wish to particularly emphasize the fact that these garments also embody the very latest style features.

The new drapes, the various tunic effects, the curious little jackets and the novelty trimmings are all featured in the lines of Coats and Suits at this price.

We must mention particularly one very attractive model—a wistaria colored Suit, of novelty ripple cloth. The Eton jacket is a clever copy of a striking French model, trimmed with collar and revers of Oriental crepe, while the skirt has the decidedly new ruffle.

We must also mention a Coat model of black moire, with the new flare back effect, and fancy brocade collar and cuffs.

There are these and many others to delight those who desire style and tailoring at a very reasonable price.

We are specializing on "Shape-Retaining" Suits at $19.75 to $35, and on finely-tailored Coats at $16.50 to $35.

How to Save Your Eyes

Try This Free Prescription

Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time. Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as if by magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Optona tablets; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one tablet and allow it to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment, but marvelously effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes and you are likely to thank us as long as you live for publishing this prescription.—ADVERTISEMENT.

2 MORE BRITISH OFFICERS DIE AS AIR CRAFT FALLS

Collapse at Great Height Costs Lives of Army Captain and Lieutenant.

SALISBURY, England, March 11.—Two more officers of the British army flying corps were killed here today.

Capt. C. R. W. Allen of the Welsh Regiment and Lieut. J. E. G. Burroughs of the Wiltshire Regiment, while over the military aerodrome on Salisbury Plain were hurled from a high altitude by the collapse of their aeroplane.

The cause of the accident was the breaking of the rudder bar of a government-built biplane piloted by Capt. Allen, who was carrying Lieut. Burroughs as a passenger.

Capt. Cyril R. Downer of the Northamptonshire Infantry Regiment was killed yesterday by a fall with his aeroplane, almost at the same spot.

He had only recently been detailed for service with the army flying corps.

MAN INDICTED IN PLOT TO KILL TWO JUDGES

Carpenter Is Charged With Conspiracy Against Men Investigating Terre Haute Election Frauds.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 11.—Bert W. Dickens, a carpenter, was arrested yesterday on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to kill Judge Charles M. Fotrune of the Vigo County Circuit Court, Felix Blankenbaker, special Judge hearing the election fraud cases, and Joseph Roach, special prosecutor in the fraud trials. It is alleged that Dickens entered into an agreement with persons, not named, to kill the three court officials, either by throwing bombs at them or by placing dynamite under their homes.

A witness before the grand jury testified that an attempt to dynamite Judge Fortune's home Sunday night had failed because of the presence of armed guards.

The threats against the lives of the officials and witnesses in the fraud cases are alleged to have been made since William Huffman, a city official, was convicted here last week and sentenced to from three to 10 years in the State penitentiary.

SIX PROMINENT LAWYERS ARE INDICTED IN OMAHA

Extortion, Blackmail, Embezzlement and Subornation Charged; Woman Also Accused.

OMAHA, Neb., March 11.—Six prominent attorneys were indicted here last night, three being charged with extortion and blackmail, two with embezzlement and one with subornation of perjury.

I. H. Baxter, former U. S. Attorney, and District Judge and present law partner of former U. S. Senator Norris Brown, is accused of getting $7500 from A. D. Brandeis, millionaire merchant, who later defeated a $250,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Nellie R. Paul. R. H. Olmstead is alleged to have obtained $37,500 on the same account. Thomas Brady and Mrs. Paul, for whom he was attorney, also are accused in indictments. Mrs. Paul had charged Brandeis had mistreated her son.

Clinton Brome is accused of subornation of perjury in a $50,000 suit to adjudicate a rich Omaha woman's estate, and T. H. Matters and Carroll Wright are alleged to have withheld clients' funds, the former $3500 and the latter $220.

CIVIC LEAGUE SUGGESTS FEWER ELECTIVE OFFICERS

Pamphlet Supplementing One Urging Short Ballot Recommends Direct Appointments.

Following the publication of a campaign pamphlet urging the adoption of the short ballot for the State, the Snort Ballot Committee of the Civic League Tuesday begun the distribution of another pamphlet designed to popularize the short ballot idea for St. Louis. The pamphlet not only proposes cutting out most of the elective officers under our present charter, but also most of the local officers elected at State elections.

The committee would make the following officials appointive: In the regular State election, the Coroner and Public Administrator; in the biennial election, Clerk Circuit Court, Clerk Circuit Court for Criminal Cases, Clerk Probate Court, Clerk Court of Criminal Correction, Constable, Recorder of Deeds, License Collector.

In the municipal election the only officers which the committee would retain as elective are the members of the legislative body, Mayor and the members of the Board of Education. The Board of Freeholders, which is drafting a new charter, has provided for a short ballot, but has included the Comptroller among the elective officials.

The committee shows in a striking chart that every St. Louis voter votes for 80 different public officials in the course of four years. The highest number at any one election is 25. The committee asks how any man can vote intelligently for so many different officers.

There is a widespread misunderstanding and opposition to the short ballot in St. Louis, the committee has found. This is based on the idea that the short ballot deprives the people of the power to elect their own officers and thus decreases their participation in government. The committee's pamphlet answers that argument by declaring that only by concentration on a few officers that everyone can learn about, do the people really select their servants. Otherwise, it declares, the political bosses select them. The slogan of the committee is, "The Long Ballot is the Politician's Ballot. The Short Ballot is the People's Ballot."

LINCOLN'S LAW OFFICE LAMP SELLS FOR $160

Blue Ironstone China Plate He Used in 1837 Brings $42.50 in Antique Sale.

NEW YORK, March 11.—A blue ironstone china plate used by Abraham Lincoln in his home in Springfield, Ill., in 1837, brought $42.50 last night at the Norton antique lamp sale. An old steel knife and fork with bone handles sold for $52.50. The martyred President's law office lamp sold for $160 and an old chair used by him brought the same price.

These four Lincoln relics were taken by Dr. C. A. Quincy Norton, with other relics from the Lincoln log cabin, which was exhibited in New York in 1866, in lieu of fees which were to have been paid him for lecturing at the cabin.

A lamp used by Harriet Beecher Stowe in writing "Uncle Tom's Cabin," presented to Dr. Norton by Dr. C. E. Stowe, her husband, sold for $71. A beautiful old brass marine candlestick captured by the U. S. S. Constitution from the British ship Guerriere in the war of 1812, went for $36. A china candlestick from the Confederate "White House," in 1863, went to a Milwaukee museum for $8.

HOW THIN PEOPLE MAY PUT ON FLESH

"Just look, Mary, at those Robinsons. Three months ago they were as thin as you and I, and Robinson says all they have done is 'Eat Sargol and grow fat.'"

50c BOX FREE

I want to prove to every thin man and woman who reads this paper that I have a treatment which quickly increases weight and puts ten-twenty-yes-even thirty pounds of life giving nerve quieting, warmth producing fat on bony frames. A treatment that fills out hollows, makes weak, pale, rundown folks strong and healthy; overcomes debility, either nervous or physical, and revitalizes the whole body until it fairly tingles with vibrant energy.

I want to prove to you, personally, that no matter how thin you are or how long you have been thin, that you can make your weight what you will, weigh what you should weigh and be as fat as you should be. I want to prove that you can clothe every part of your bony frame with good, firm, permanent, healthy "stay there" fat and muscular tissue. I can think of no better way to prove all this than to send you some of this treatment, which is called Sargol, absolutely free and let you use it yourself. And that's what I propose to do.

Sargol is surely a marvel. It succeeds because it makes your food work and stick. I believe you are thin because you don't get enough nourishment from what you eat. The fat making elements in your foods are going to waste. You probably eat from four to six pounds of good solid food each day. Yet you don't gain an ounce in weight. Your food doesn't stick, hardly gives you enough real nourishment to pay for the cost of cooking. Probably if you ate a dozen meals a day, in your present condition, you wouldn't gain. But take Sargol and the same meals you're eating now should put many pounds of good, firm flesh between your skin and bones. F. Gagnon of Quebec says he gained 22 pounds with 28 days' treatment and there are many more.

Sargol contains highly valuable ingredients designed to furnish your whole body with the very fat essentials it so sadly needs if you expect to get fat and gain in weight. It mixes with the food you eat for the purpose of turning the sugars and starches in your food into rich, ripe nourishment for you tissues and blood. It aims to save the immense amount of fat making nourishment that now goes to waste with every meal, to force it to renew the red corpuscles throughout the body, and to build layer upon layer of healthy fat on wasted, emaciated frames. Its sole purpose is to make FAT—fat that means better looks, better health, a warmer body and a more active brain.

Don't take my word for this. I don't ask you to believe me now. But stop the doubting and indifference that prevents decision and gets you nowhere. ACT. Sit down now and send the FREE COUPON below. It entitles you to one 50c box of Sargol and I send it to you free to prove that all I say is true. Take Sargol with your meals—then watch it work. See how weight goes up and nervousness goes down; how stomach troubles vanish and worries fade away; how face and figure fills with healthy fat, and happiness and joyous, buoyant strength, energy and ambition take the place of lagging, drooping courage and wasted vitality.

Cut out the coupon now. Send it to me now with your name and address and 10c in silver to help pay postage, packing, etc., and to prove good faith, and a 50c package of Sargol will go forward to you by return mail, absolutely free. Address Sargol Co., 962-R Herald Building, Binghamton, N. Y.

YOUNG VIOLINIST IN DEBUT RECITAL WINS MUCH FAVOR

Isadore Greenberg, Though Immature in Technique, Proves His Fiddling Mettle.

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.

ISADORE GREENBERG, a slender lad of 16, who already enjoys the distinction of having won his way into the first violin section of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, appeared in recital at the Odeon on Tuesday evening, assisted by Allan Bacon, a young pianist, and gave a very good account of himself.

Quite bravely, in the audacious spirit of dauntless youth, he essayed a perilously trying program, "hitching his wagon to a star," so to speak, thus electing to show, at the very outset of his career, how near to—or far from—the master players of the violin he now stands in interpretative powers and in technical skill.

The compositions chosen to this end were Bruch's "Conserto No. 1, in G Minor," Chopin's "Nocturne in E Flat," Wienawski's "Obertas," Krejsler's "Caprice Viennois" and Vieuxtemps' "Fantasia Appassionata"—a distinctly rigorous test indeed.

The youthful fiddler emerged from this test's undertaking with considerable credit. He possesses native gifts of definite promise. His sense of musical thought is acute. His response to the emotional demand of a composer is remarkable for one of his years and lack of experience in life's living. His work is marked by excellent production of tone. His technique is not yet of that soundness which enables him to accomplish, with entirely satisfying results, a fully convincing revelation of solo artistry.

The best showing of his violinistic mettle was made in the adagio movement of the Bruch concerto, in the Kreisler "Caprice," in certain phases of the Chopin "Nocturne," in the Wienawski number, and, as one of his several encores, in the lovely and exacting little "Humoresque" of Dvorak's wistfully whimsical weaving.

His lack of virtuosity, inevitable in the case of a boy of but four years' close communion with a fiddle, became evident in the final movement of the Bruch composition and was most apparent in the closing Vieuxtemps number. He is not yet capably equipped for the pyrotechnics of the violin. Because of this truth, his achievement in the more brilliant passages of the works named was characterized by uncertainty of effect and by occasional slurring in tone-transition. His bowing is graceful and accurate, save when, at particularly trying moments, a natural nervousness, largely due to lack of solo experience, impairs its quality. His completed task of the night, however, was a task well performed.

Allan Bacon gave the young violinist a competent accompaniment at the piano and himself was pleasingly heard in two delightful MacDowell scores, the "Prelude in E Minor," and the "Concert Study in F. Sharp;" De Bussy's "Rain in the Garden," Sinding's "Melodie" and Saint-Saens "Dance of the Dervishes."

MME. GADSKI CANNOT COME HERE FOR CONCERT

Wagnerian Festival of Symphony Orchestra Will Be Held Without a Soloist.

The Wagnerian festival of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, which will take place Friday afternoon and Saturday evening of this week, will have no soloist. Announcement of this fact was made Tuesday night by Manager Gaines after he had received a telegram from Mme. Johanna Gadski saying she could not come to St. Louis for the two concerts. Mme. Gadski is billed to sing in opera in New York Thursday night and the opera management refused all inducements to release her from her contract.

Mme. Gadski was asked to take the place of Mme. Margarete Matzenauer, the Wagnerian contralto, who was obliged to cancel all the season's engagements because of illness.

The program will be as announced previously, except that the "Kaiser Marsch" and Siegfried "Idyll" will be substituted for the two vocal numbers.

WHAT THE INTERNAL BATH IS DOING FOR HUMANITY

Under our present mode of living the large intestine (or colon) cannot get rid of all the waste that it accumulates—so it clogs up, and then biliousness, constipation is the result, and that lack of desire to do, to work, to think.

This waste in the colon, as we all know is extremely poisonous, and if neglected, the blood takes up the poisons—and brings on countless very serious diseases—appendicitis is directly caused by waste in the colon.

If the colon is kept clean and pure you will always feel bright and capable—never blue and nervous—always up to concert-pitch."

There is just one internal bath which will keep the colon as sweet and clean as nature demands it to be for perfect health—that is, the "J. B. L. Cascade."

Many thousands are using it, and doctors prescribing it with great success all over the world. PAGEANT FUND QUEST HALTED TO AID MT. ST. ROSE

Mrs. F. H. Kreismann was cheered when Philip C. Scanlan, general chairman of the campaign to raise $300,000 for the Mount St. Rose Hospital, announced at the dinner at the Planters Hotel for the Mount St. Rose workers, that Mrs. Kreismann, on her own initiative, had asked and gained the consent of the Pageant Committee to stand aside in its work of raising money for the pageant in May until the end of the campaign for Mount St. Rose.

Mrs. Kreismann also has obtained pledges for $3000. She is affiliated with the Women's Executive Committee, the chairman of which is Mrs. J. L. D. Morrison.

"Watch the fever grow," is the committee's slogan. Ten-foot thermometers have been placed at Sixth street and Washington avenue and at Grand and Olive street, and the red line in the thermometer will ascend to the amount recorded each midday. Monday's half-day collections netted $5068.58. The largest single contribution was that of $1000 brought in by Philip C. Scanlan. Team No. 13 for the men reported $381, the banner going to them."

Facts in Nature

FOR centuries it has been known that Nature's most valuable health giving agents for the cure of disease are found in our American forests. Over forty years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N.Y., used the powdered extracts as well as the liquid extracts of native medicinal plants, such as Bloodroot and Queen's root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Cherry bark and Mandrake, for the cure of blood diseases. This prescription as put up in liquid form was called

PICKPOCKETS ON CARS ROB THREE PASSENGERS

$57 and Gold Watch Stolen; Two Men Are Suspected in Each Instance.

Street car robbers picked the pockets of three victims in the downtown section of the city Tuesday.

Nicholas P. Heiman of the St. Regis Hotel was robbed of $27 before he had ridden a block on a north bound car. W. C. Russell of the Commercial Credit Co., 635 Locust street, saw two men jump from the car near Market street about the time Heiman discovered he had been robbed.

Henry Rischer of 2206 Benton street lost $30. He suspected two men, one of whom jumped from the car while it was at full speed. The robbery occurred on a Cass car near Seventh street and Lucas avenue.

Kochus Cyris of 2823 Lyon street was robbed of a gold watch on a south bound Broadway car near Chouteau avenue. He said he was jostled by two men, one of whom answered the description of one of the men suspected of having robbed Richer.

BILE INHIBITS GERM GROWTH

We are told that all disease is simply an excess of germs. Germs get under the skin and make a sore. It festers and becomes inflamed.

Where one germ gets under the skin, millions go into the body with the food we eat. They should not hurt us a particle, and would not if the Bile flowed freely.

Bile stops—inhibits—the breeding or multiplication of these germs, and, as long as it flows freely, we have no trouble.

May Apple Root was called "Mandrake" in the Bible. The Doctors call it "Podophyllin." For ages it has been used as a Bile-Starter. In the old form it griped and sickened—but now it is put up in a formula called "PoDoLax," in which all the old faults have been eliminated. Children take it without resistance. It releases the Bile as sure as you take it.

Bile purifies the food in the intestines after Nature's own method. The blood abounds with life and no foreign germs can breed or multiply in the Bile-purified food.

A 50-cent bottle of PoDoLax will prove this, and you will say—"Why didn't some one think of this before?" To offer you something as good as PoDoLax is to question your judgment.

SUIT TO RECOVER $20,041 IN FEES FILED IN CLAYTON

Prosecuting Attorney Lashly filed suit in the Circuit Court in Clayton Wednesday against County Clerk William Seibel, to recover $20,041.97 in fees that Seibel is alleged to have illegally appropriated to his own use since 1911.

This is the first of the suits to be filed against officials and former officials of St. Louis County to recover fees amounting to $55,864.82, said, in the report of the State Board of Examiners filed recently by State Auditor Gordon, to have been illegally retained since 1907.

In conjunction with the suit against Seibel, Lashly filed a petition against the clerk's bondsmen, demanding that the amount of the bond, $7000, be paid in the county at once. The names of the bondsmen are Peter Wetzel, Niclaus Boden, D. C. Taylor, Sebastian Vogel, Henry Seibel, Adam W. Seibel and Frederick Essen.

Lashly said he would file suits against the others named in the report at once, with the exception of Collector August Kassebaum, who covered the $41.45 checked against him, and County Treasurer Jacob Schaedler, who also restored $115 listed against him.

COPY OF STOLEN RECORD RULED OUT IN GEROLD TRIAL

Court Upholds Defense's Contention Original Record Is Only Proper Evidence.

The theft of six East St. Louis city records from the vaults of the Comptroller's office last August without the vaults being forced open, while a graft investigation was under way, was taken advantage of by attorneys for E. Fred Gerold, former City Treasurer, on trial on an indictment charging that he withheld $50,000 of city funds, soon after Gerold's trial opened in the East St. Louis City Court.

Daniel J. Sullivan, one of Gerold's attorneys, prevented State's Attorney Webb from introducing a bond ledger compiled by an expert accountant, and showing the condition of special improvement funds, from which, it is alleged, Gerold diverted to his own use large sums of money.

Prosecution Opens Case.

Sullivan contended that only the original record could properly be introduced in evidence. Webb explained to the Court the circumstances of the disappearance of the city records while officials were under investigation, but Judge Pope ruled that the copy prepared by an accountant could not be introduced.

Webb told a Post-Dispatch reporter that while the ruling of the Court would make the presentation of the State's case more difficult, there were other ways the evidence could be brought before the jury.

W. R. Rodenberger, Comptroller at the time the books were stolen, and under indictment on a charge of embezzling the books, testified that the books were stolen while he was absent from the city. He said he could not identify items on the bond register compiled by an accountant as being the same as items which were on the original bond register.

Voucher Offered in Evidence.

With the introduction of warrants and vouchers, Webb, Wednesday, began his attempt to prove the alleged shortage by Gerold of $500 in the fund for the improvement of Bond avenue, between Seventeenth street and Cheyenne avenue.

He first offered in evidence a voucher and warrant for $16,800, dated Jan. 6, 1910, showing that Frank Holten, then City Treasurer, had received $16,800 to reimburse him for money paid out in redeeming bonds and coupons of the Bond avenue improvement. The voucher included coupons of series D, numbered from 154 to 161, and from 165 to 176, for $25 each, a total of 20 coupons, making a total of $500 of the $16,800, the amount of the warrant and voucher.

Coupons Introduced.

Webb followed this with a warrant and voucher dated Dec. 29, 1911, for $500, and made payable to Fred Gerold, who succeeded Holten as Treasurer. This voucher showed that Gerold took credit for coupons of the same numbers as those Holten had taken credit for nearly two years before.

The coupons were introduced and showed on their face that they were due Dec. 30, 1909, only a few days before the record shows that Holten paid them. They were marked paid, however, the date that Gerold took credit for them. The State will place on the stand witnesses whom it expects to testify that when Holten went out of office he left hundreds of uncanceled coupons which he had paid.

The State will contend that Gerold found these uncanceled coupons and paid them to himself, taking a second payment of the same indebtedness.

O. R. Saunders, a clerk in the City Treasurer's office, testified that the records of the office showed that the warrant cashed by Holten and giving in detail the payments of the coupons in question, was entered on the books, showing that the coupons were paid at approximately the time they were due and long before Gerold took office.

Webb called the attention of the jury to the fact that the signatures to the documents were by rubber stamp.

Sullivan, Gerold's attorney, raised legal technicalities to the introduction of each of the records, his point being that they were not properly identified as being original city records. He was overruled each time by Judge Pope.

Testifies From Records.

Saunders testified from the records of the Treasurer's office that Gerold, Dec. 21, 1911, took credit on the books for $500 of coupons on the Bond avenue improvement. He said the handwriting on the books was that of W. H. Matlack, Gerold's deputy.

Frank Holten, former Treasurer, and Ferdinand Seppi, his deputy, identified the warrant and voucher by which these coupons were paid to him. Seppi said that he made out the voucher and took it to the Treasurer's office, where it was checked over with the coupons, and that he left the coupons in the Comptroller's office.

He said that he did not cancel the coupons, and that, after Gerold took office, he was present in the Comptroller's office when the uncanceled coupons were checked over by an expert accountant.

Sullivan attempted on cross-examination to show by him that this accountant had found discrepancies in Holten's accounts, but Judge Pope ruled out the question.

Aeolian Hall
—musical center of St. Louis

The RED line is vital!

On Pianola rolls is a red line drawn with a pen—called the Metrostyle line—which teaches you how to play artistically. Numerous attempts are being made to confuse the public regarding this red line.

Exclusive to the Pianola

Only the Pianola has the Metrostyle—without which it is impossible to learn to play music artistically by means of a music roll. "Pianola" is the trademark of the player-action patented and built by the Aeolian Company—the one supremely successful player-action. It is the custom of piano salesmen in general to attempt to confuse the name "Pianola" with the word player-piano. The Pianola is sold only at Aeolian Hall!

Player-piano is only a general term applying to any commercial player-action installed in any piano. Refuse to be misled. Come to Aeolian Hall and see the Pianola, so that you may understand wherein it is so superior to ordinary player-pianos and why it is so widely imitated.

The Metrostyle is but one of 300 patented features exclusive to the Pianola—every one of which is protected in this country and abroad by patents owned by the Aeolian Company. The Pianola is built in but six models—Steinway, Stroud, Wheelock, Stuyvesant, Steck and Weber.

Stroud Pianola $550
Terms $3 a week

The Stroud Pianola is the most recent creation of the great Aeolian organization of player and piano experts. All of the exclusive features of the Pianola are embodied in the Stroud Pianola, including the Metrostyle.

With this splendid instrument in your home you may sit down and play whatever suits your mood, whether you have had previous musical training or not. Those who have enjoyed musical instruction will especially appreciate the exclusive features of the Pianola, whereby one may reproduce perfectly the hand-playing of any artist.

Special player-piano $395

We have a limited number of Aeolian-built Player-Pianos, playing standard 88-note full scale music rolls, cased in mahogany—of the kind an ordinary piano store would ask $600 for. These we offer, while a limited quantity lasts, at the attractive price named below. We advise out-of-town buyers to telegraph us at our expense if they wish to purchase from the limited quantity of special Player-Pianos. Every instrument is new, fresh from the factory and carries the full Aeolian guarantee.

Special Victrola Offer

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock we offer a limited number of complete Victor outfits. These include the famous Victrola XI, the style which sells for $100 the world over,

Together With 24 Selections!

We will include with this Victrola 12 double-faced Victor records—24 selections—retailing at 75c each, which are listed below, and the entire cost for this complete outfit is only $109, payable on easy terms of $1.00 a week. This special Victrola outfit will be a source of everlasting pleasure to you and your dear ones. How easily you can give them this great pleasure since we've made the terms so low that you will never feel the payments.

The selections included in this offer, as you will see, are the latest song hits and dance music, as well as the old-time classics one never grows tired of. These are regular 75c records and this assortment you'll never get tired of playing over and over again. In mahogany or oak, very handsome in design and contains space for several Victor record albums and plays all sizes of Victor records.

SWEENEY GOES TO CUBS; PERDUE TO REMAIN A BRAVE

Owner Taft, Owner of Chicago Nationals, Signs Boston Man for Three Years.

EVERS ROW IS SETTLED

Wrangle Over Recent Transfer Is Ended by Deal at Macon, Ga.

CHICAGO, March 11.—W. J. Sweeney will come to the Chicago Nationals and Hub Perdue will remain with Boston. This solution of the controversy over the players involved in the Evers sale was telephoned by C. P. Taft, owner of the Cubs, to C. W. Murphy here, former president of the Cubs, who still is acting for the club.

Murphy had a representative at Macon, Ga., where the Boston Nationals are training and Sweeney today signed a three-year contract to play second base for the Cubs.

Taft did not state on what authority he based his announcement, but simply declared that the controversy over the players had been officially settled.

Feds Make New Bid for Cobb.

Specials say that President Weeghman of the Chicago club has made a new offer to Ty Cobb, while George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City Federals, is reported to be after Wilbur Goode of the Chicago Nationals. Both Good and Cobb are under contract with their respective teams, and will stick.

Eddie Cicotte, pitcher for the Chicago Americans, has signed a new contract "at one of the largest salaries paid a pitcher in the American League," according to a message received here from Sacramento, where the White Sox were today. Cicotte had been a "holdout."

Big Leaguers Seek Fed Jobs.

Eleven big League players have telegraphed President Gilmore, asking for a chance to join the Federals, according to a dispatch from Shreveport. Among them are four of the Boston Americans, and players on the Chicago Federal team are quoted as saying they are Wagner, Lewis, Collins and Leonard.

It was understood that Federal League refused to accede to Wagner's demands, which were for $7500 a year. Collins' reported terms may be accepted, it was said, and if so he will be signed for the Brooklyn team.

PITTSBURG FEDS GIVE OUT PLAYERS SIGNED; CLUB APPEARS STRONG

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 11.—William McCullough, business manager of the Pittsburg (Federal League) club, today gave out the names of players who have been signed to play with Pittsburg the coming season. They will leave for the training camp at Lynchburg tomorrow.

The list follows:

CATCHERS.—Claude Berry, Portland, Ore.; C. J. Fullmer, Texas League; John J. Kerr of Baltimore Internationals, drafted by New York Americans; Edward Roberts, last year with the St. Louis Cardinals.

PITCHERS.—Elmer Knetzer, Pittsburg; Tom Roberts, Galveston, Tex.; Willie Adams, part of last season with St. Louis Americans; George Leclair, Montreal; Howard Camnitz, Philadelphia Nationals and Pirates; Cy Barger, Newark International League; Harry Hedgepeth, in Virginia State League last year, drafted by the Washington Americans; Edward Henderson, with Lowell last year, drafted by Boston Americans; Henry Law, semi-professional of Lloydell; Walter Dickson, last year with Boston Nationals; Fred Blahding, last year with Cleveland Americans.

INFIELDERS.—Hugh Bradley, first baseman, Jersey City International League; Cy Rheams of Indiana Normal; Jack Lewis, Pittsburg; Allen Morgan, Montreal; Eddie Hooper, Tri-State League; Eddie Lennox, Montreal; Charles McDonald, Boston Nationals part of last season.

OUTFIELDERS.—Manager Gessler, formerly with Washington Americans; Davy Jones, last year with Detroit and Toledo; Ralph Mattis, Virginia State League, drafted by the St. Louis Americans; J. H. Savage, New York State League; Rebel Oakes, St. Louis Nationals; Bill Holden, New York Americans; Mike Menosky, Pittsburg.

Trendall Forced to Cover by Texas Fighter's Punch

Waugh Gains Decision

St. Louis Boxer Outsparred His Opponent, but Was Compelled to Back Away or Clinch by His Aggressive Rival.

By Harry S. Sharpe,

Referee for the Future City A. C. and Post-Dispatch's Boxing Authority.

BOBBY WAUGH of Fort Worth, Tex., and Harry Trendall of St. Louis boxed a close eight-round bout at the Future City Athletic Club last night, but at the finish I thought Waugh had the better of it.

Waugh proved to be an aggressive, hard-hitting, fearless boxer, and he is the first one in a long while to punish Trendall and make him back away, clinch, and even turn his back and sprint around the ring, to escape hard punches.

Packey McFarland made Trendall look somewhat foolish in a boxing way, but didn't hurt him. WAUGH CANNOT OUTBOX TRENDALL, but he did hurt him with hard punches and made the St. Louis lightweight resort to everything he knows about the boxing game in an unsuccessful effort to avoid these same hard punches.

In my opinion, it is a long time since any boxer has rocked Trendall with such hard punches, causing his knees to sag and making him hold on tight with both hands.

At straight boxing Trendall outsparred his opponent, but when the latter got to close quarters and there was an exchange of punches, Waugh landed his blows with far more telling effect, and at in-fighting his blows had much more force. In a majority of instances, at this style of boxing, Trendall was made to break ground or clinch.

Trendall was responsible for almost all the clinching and holding that took place, and many times in these clinches when Waugh continued to strike, as he had a right to do because he was not holding, I had to call Trendall's attention to the fact that it was he doing the holding. It was because Trendall was holding and Waugh was not that he had to suffer some hard clouts over the kidneys. It was his fault, not Waugh's.

TRENDALL did not appear to have the snap and speed usually so characteristic of his punches, and he did not look to me as if he were in his best condition.

Waugh did not seem worried much by Trendall's blows at any time, and proved it by making little effort after the first round to block them, directing most of his energies to scoring with hard, punishing punches.

At times he was sadly out-boxed, but he evened this by rushing Trendall about the ring and making the St. Louis boy cover or clinch for protection.

Several times he had Trendall wobbly and a possible knockout seemed in sight, but the local boxer's clever generalship always saved him.

Trendall used his left jab with good effect in the first round, but Waugh landed two hard right crosses to the jaw that staggered Trendall and must have warned him of their danger.

Trendall outpointed his opponent in the second round, but got the worst of it in the third round, receiving some hard punches that slowed him down and seemed to confuse him. In the fourth round Trendall peppered Waugh's face and drew blood from his nose, but was repaid by hard blows whipped to his body, one in particular reaching Trendall's stomach so hard that it made him clinch and hold on tight.

Waugh started the fifth round in very aggressive manner and soon put Trendall on the defensive. Waugh reached him with some hard punches to the head and body. When the round ended, Trendall was bleeding freely from the nose and had been made to do a lot of clinching.

There was little to choose between them in the sixth round, Waugh, the aggressor, boring in and landing some hard punches, while Trendall responded with left jabs and some blows to the body that were rather weak.

Trendall Takes Beating.

The seventh round was Trendall's worst, and he was roughly handled by the Texan, who chased the local boxer about the ring in every direction. Several times in this round Trendall fought with savage desperation, but his strength was not equal to Waugh's, the latter's blows scoring heavily and with punishing effect.

The eighth round was of the whirlwind order, and in the beginning of it Trendall outpointed his opponent, but the latter kept crowding forward, and in the latter part of the round he dealt out heavy punishment to the head and body, so that Trendall was slowing up fast when it ended.

In my opinion, Waugh was the winner, because he was the aggressor most of the time; his blows had more punishing effect, he held an advantage in a greater number of rounds, and drew no penalties for violation of the rules.

Harry Sharpe's Decisions.

BOBBY WAUGH of Fort Worth, Tex., vs. Harry Trendall of St. Louis, eight rounds at catch-weights—WAUGH THE WINNER on points.

"KID" VICK vs. "Kid" Walters, both of St. Louis, eight rounds, weight 135 pounds—VICK THE WINNER by knockout in the second round.

JIMMY STILLMAN vs. Jimmy Brown, eight rounds, weight 122 pounds—STILLMAN THE WINNER on points.

Cards Get Three Hits Off Browns Recruit Pitchers

Manning and Witte Hold Huggins' Men Without a Run in Nine Innings.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 11.—Inability to solve the delivery of Pitchers Manning and Witte, two Brown recruits, caused the defeat of the Cardinal kids yesterday afternoon in their game here, 4—0. In seven innings that he worked Pitcher Manning, who was plucked from Montgomery in place of Elmer Brown, yielded only one hit, while his free tickets totaled only four. Witte succeeded him and held the Cards to two hits in as many innings.

With his characteristic mania for using men out of their regular positions, Manager Huggins yesterday sent Butler to third base and put Beck at short, with Dolan on second. Butler is destined to fill the vacancy at short, while Dolan is to be used as utility third-sacker, but Manager Huggins sees no reason for giving these men practice at their chosen position.

Messenger was the hitting hero for the Browns, getting three knocks, one a double, out of five times up. Hollander combed two singles out of three times up and accepted nine chances in the field without a miscue.

TAFT CONSIDERS TWO OFFERS FOR HIS CUBS

CINCINNATI, March 11.—Frank D. Mayer of Chicago, representing what is known as the Spiegel Syndicate, held a long conference with Charles P. Taft, owner of the controlling interest in the Chicago National League baseball club, here today.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Mayer announced that he had made Mr. Taft an offer for his interest in the club.

Mr. Mayer stated that Mr. Taft assured him that he was at present considering only two propositions, that of Connery interests of Chicago and the offer made today by Mr. Mayer.

SPORT SALAD

BY L.C. DAVIS.

Pretty Soft.

AS I was walking down the street
A baseball tourist I did meet.
He said: "Abroad no more I'll roam,
There is no place like home sweet home.

"A magnate met me at the ship.
Said he: 'My boy, I'll tote your grip.
It fills my soul with great alarm
To see you strain your salary arm.'

"He took a contract from his clothes
And shoved it underneath my nose.
He told me if I'd sign the same
The figures I myself could name.

"My kelster he did quickly grab
And shoved me in a taxi cab;
Then told the man to go like h——l
And take us to a fine hotel.

"He ordered all the finest cuts
And filled me up from soup to nuts,
With choicest foreign wines to drink—
Oh! how he loves me, I don't think.

"Regardless of that magnate's groans
I signed for eighteen thousand bones;
And, as I signed, the dear old bloke,
He looked as though he hoped I'd choke."

Champion De Oro Gains 21-Point Lead in First Clash With Fred Eams

NEW YORK, March 11.—Alfred de Oro had a good grip on his three-cushion billiard title at Doyle's Academy last night, when he defeated Fred Eams of Denver in first block of their match for the championship, 50 to 29. The champion led from the start, and while the result was never in doubt, he had to play 92 innings to get his necessary 50 points to win the first game of the series of three.

Neither player showed championship form and there were many innings of play in which neither the champion nor his opponent was able to score a point. The game lagged along, and while De Oro had the lead by a safe margin, he did not show the billiard form of which he is capable.

He missed many shots that looked like easy points, although he made many others that were difficult. De Oro's high runs were 6, 4, 3 and 2. Eams made runs of 4, 3 and 2.

FEDERAL UMPIRES GOING SOUTH TO GET IN CONDITION

Indicator Men, Like Players, to Spend a Month at Hard Work.

Forty-eight Federal League ball players passed through Union Station last night in two squads, the St. Louis club going to Monroe, La., under command of Mordecai Brown, while the Indianapolis team hit the lonesome trail for Wichita Falls, Tex., under Whoa Bill Phillips. Both squads left at 8:30 p. m.

A few minutes later another delegation of outlaws started for Mineral Springs, Tex., this squad being composed exclusively of umpires. Among them were Barry McCormick, former third sacker for the Browns; Cusack, an ex-National leaguer; Bill Brennan, also a former protege of Tom Lynch, and others to the total of eight.

Lloyd Rickart, secretary of the outlaw league, was on the job as chaperon and saw to it that everybody got the proper start. Rickart was enthusiastic about his scheme of sending the umpires south for training.

"This is a regular league and we're doing things as they should be done," explained Rickart. "All our umpires will spend a month in the South, going around to the different camps. They will be required to get in condition so that their eyes will be trained on the ball when the season opens. It's as hard for an umpire to get his eye on the ball as it is for the batter. We're giving the arbitrators an even chance."

Stars on Way to Report.

Among the players who passed through with the Indianapolis club were Vin Campbell, former Smith Academy star, who re-enters the national pastime after a year's rest at a fancy salary, and bill McKechnie, ex-Pirate. Cy Falkenberg, the Cleveland star, will report direct to Wichita Falls, Manager Phillips stated. Bill Rariden, the Boston catcher, is Phillips' main reliance behind the bat.

All hands were on deck when Mordecai Brown inaugurated his junket. Del Drake, secured from Kansas City, responded to the first call to arms, although he begged to be excused earlier in the week because of sickness in his family. The players who started South with Brown were:

Catchers—M. Simon, Grover A. Hartley.

Pitchers—Otis Crandall, Robert Groom, Al Buschman, Arthur Williams, E. Herbert, Harry Kueppers, William Morgan, William Jenney.

First basemen—Hugh Miller, J. O'Neill.

Second baseman—Al Bucher.

Shortstop—Al Bridwell.

Third baseman—J. J. Mathews.

Outfielders—Ward Miller, J. T. Tobin, Fred Kommers, Del Drake.

Trainer—Dr. Dryenforth.

Secretary—Arthur Bader.

Pitcher Edgar Willett and Catcher Harry Chapman already are in Monroe.

BRADLEY IS APPOINTED MANAGER OF BROOKLYN

NEW YORK, March 11.—Billy Bradley, veteran third baseman, who was with Toronto last season, was yesterday appointed manager of the Brooklyn Federal League club. The announcement was made public by Walter S. Ward, the treasurer. Ward confirmed the report that Danny Murphy, the former champion of the world's champion Athletics, had signed a contract for three years and will play in the outfield.

Murphy also will act as a lieutenant to Bradley. With Murphy, the Brooklyn Federals will have three former big leaguers in the outfield, the two other players being Arthur Hofman, formerly of the Cubs, and Al Shaw of the Giants.

President Harry Hempstead of the Giants will leave in a few days for a vacation. President Hempstead is undecided whether the trip will be to the Pacific Coast or to Bermuda.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Cape Nome Is on the Bum, Now.

CAPE NOME and the Yukon district will probably suffer a severe backset since the announcement of Tris Speaker's salary for 1914, reported to be $18,000, with bonus trimmings.

The quick-rich guys that were wont to hustle to the front wherever "color" signs were discovered in gold countries, will see a quicker and surer road to wealth by going into baseball.

* *

Pity the Poor Bank President.

FOR the Federal League has outfrenzied all previous finance by butting into the organized baseball field. Tris Speaker's salary is not one lone exception.

Taking into consideration managers as well as players, there are a score of individuals, not holding stock in clubs, who are making not under $12,000 and as high as $25,000 per annum.

Get that! Let it sink in awhile and then cast your eyes around to see what returns are yielded by other lines of endeavor. There's the United States Senator; he gets $7500 per annum; the Mayor of St. Louis gets but $5000 yearly; the Governors of many states do not get over $5000, and some get less than that—only a few rise over $10,000. The average bank president of the country will not draw over $15,000, if that. Doctors and lawyers would compromise from the very beginning of their careers on a salary of $8000, if it could be so arranged. While the poor but erudite college professor staggers through life lucky to ever attain a $5000 chair of something-or-other!

* * *

Paid for Enjoying Himself.

CONSIDER, too, that the ballplayer does NOT WORK at all! He PLAYS for six months at a sport which builds up his health and contributes to a long and happy life. The other six months he may work or play or hunt and fish, as suits his fancy.

But everybody else must begin life by laying a strong educational foundation, perhaps struggle through college and then vegetate for years trying to coax together a clientele that will net him living expenses.

Could you blame anyone for quitting the hard work route and taking the baseball shortcut?

But, On the Other Hand—

IT'S better to draw $5000 annually for life than to get $18,000 a year FOR A FEW MONTHS. The latter is a prospect that is facing baseball players today. Here's the plot:

The Federal League wants the Major league's players, under contract or not, and will pay a spanking big price.

The Organized Baseball clubs want to retain their men and will likewise pay a good price.

The Feds will buy this or that player; the opposition will raise the bid and buy him back; the Feds will grab some other player, in his stead and so on, endlessly.

Managers will be unable to hold teams together; clubs will be jokes and pennant races futile; the public will lose interest and THE BOX OFFICE WILL LOSE RECEIPTS.

Presently there'll be no money to pay big salaries and these will drop to nothing. A league or two will be crowded out and on the battle field the survivors will start to build up again, but HIRING BACK MEN AT ABOUT ONE-THIRD THE WAR PRICES—even less.

When they start to play the cut-throat game, somebody is going to suffer. And the very first innocent party to get it will be the player.

* * *

Tough on Brooklyn.

ANOTHER blow has been dealt the hopes of Millionaire Ward of the Brooklyn Feds. Art Griggs has announced that he will play with the Bridge City outfit. In a cemetery Art would be called the "pepper kid."

* * *

By the Injunction Route.

LOOKS like some of our best legal talent will share prosperity with the baseball player this season. The price of injunctions is about to rise, judging by the Federal threat to take their cases to the highest court in the country.

Willie Ritchie Is A 10-6 Favorite Over Ad Wolgast

CHICAGO, March 11.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, who will meet Ad Wolgast in a 10-round bout at Milwaukee tomorrow night, completed his training here today and will leave tonight for the scene of battle. Ritchie weighed in today at 136 pounds, a pound above the figure he has agreed to make at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

He asserted he will have no trouble in making the stipulated weight. Reports from Milwaukee said that Wolgast's weight had been announced at 135 pounds.

Betting in Chicago favored Ritchie, odds at 10 to 6½ being reported. In Milwaukee the betting is said to be even. Wolgast's injured thumb seemed to make no difference in the betting.

Federal Magnates Will Promote Minor Leagues to Develop Youngsters

NEW YORK, March 11.—Confirmations of reports that the Federal League officials were working on a scheme to organize two minor leagues to provide berths for players cast off by the parent organization, was made known yesterday by John M. Ward, business manager of the Brooklyn Federal League club.

The establishment by the new league of recruiting farms is President James Gilmore's latest plan in his fight against organized baseball, and Mr. Ward said that it met with his approval. While in the South, President Gilmore, it is said, will keep in close touch with the training quarters of National and American League clubs, and will bid for all young players who are dropped at the close of the training season. The best of these men, it is planned to use in filling gaps in Federal League clubs, while the others will be apportioned to teams in the two minor league circuits.

Jack Britton Draws With Graves.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Danny Ridge, the East Side boxer, easily outpointed Johnny Martin last night in the main 10-round bout at the Atlantic Garden A. C. Kid Graves of Milwaukee and Jack Britton of this city fought a fast 10-round bout draw at the Irving A. C. last night.

FEDS WILL FIGHT FOR BAUMGARDNER IN CIVIL COURTS

Stovall, After Trip to Browns' Camp, Says He Will Prevent Pitcher From Jumping.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 11.—Owner R. L. Hedges of the Browns, who raced here from New York with his former manager, George Stovall, now tactician for the Kansas City Federal League club, believes he has won at least a "newspaper" decision over the outlaw leader. After the big meeting in New York Saturday, Stovall and Hedges hit the blazed trail for this town, to fight for Baumgardner and Williams, two of the Brown players.

Stovall says these men signed with him last winter. Hedges claims neither men signed with the outlaws, although they did listen to Stovall's proposition. Before leaving New York, Hedges wired to Scout Charley Barrett to keep his eye on Baumgardner. Hedges and Stovall arrived on the same train yesterday, but the St. Louis magnate had a shade the better of the argument from the start as Barrett had Baumgardner in tow and kept him away from Stovall.

Hedges Increases Ante.

Baumgardner was closeted with the Brown magnate at an uptown hotel for more than an hour. When the conference broke up, Hedges admitted that he had offered Baumgardner more money to ignore Stovall. Later in the day, though, Stovall claims to have talked with the pitcher and he (Stovall) believes Baumgardner eventually will line up with the Kaw City Feds.

Whether or not Baumgardner jumps, it is interesting to know that the fight is on and the raiders will continue to invade the enemy's camp. Stovall says he came here because he has a right to Baumgardner's services and will protect his right in the court if necessary. He says that Baumgardner will either play with the Kansas City club or nobody and has served notice on Owner Hedges to that effect. The war is on.

POGGENBURG HAS HARD TIME BEATING MILBURN

NEW YORK, March 11.—J. Ferdinand Poggenburg made a sensational finish in the second match of the National class A 18.2 balk line championship tournament yesterday at the Amateur Billiard Club of New York.

The international title-holder overcame a lead of more than 100 points and defeated Eugene L. Milburn of Memphis, Tenn., 400 to 340. He averaged 8 8-49, with a high run of 38.

Edward W. Gardner of the Arion Society won the evening game. By steady and much of the time plodding billiards he defeated Morris D. Brown of the Hamilton Club, Brooklyn, 400 to 357. Toward the end, Brown gallantly tried to overhaul his opponent. Baffling leaves and unfavorable rolls of the globes thwarted his purpose. The winner averaged 9 4-44.

...are often unconsciously ...less about the diet of their ...hild... forcing all to eat the same ...ods. ...he fact is that all foods do ...agr... alike with different persons. ...ce, avoid what seems to consti... the child or to give it indiges...on, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers, is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can never tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands indorse it, among them Mrs. M. E. Patten, Valley Junction, Io., who is never without it in the house. Mrs. Patten says that Syrup Pepsin has done wonders for her boy Ralph, who was constipated from birth, but is now doing fine. Naturally she is enthusiastic about it and wants other mothers to use it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more.

Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-griping and free from injurious ingredients.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

KEOKUK DAM'S BUILDER CHOSEN TO HARNESS NILE

Hugh L. Cooper, Who Began as Draftsman, to Direct Work From New York.

ROCHESTER, Minn., March 11.—Hugh L. Cooper, a former Rochester man and builder of the dam at Keokuk, Io., an engineering feat that has attracted nation-wide attention, has been appointed consulting hydroelectric engineer for the Egyptian Government. The high honor came to him in competition with the leading engineers of England, Italy and Switzerland. The Nile dam will be one of the largest and most important engineering projects in the world.

Mr. Cooper will have supervision of the construction of the dam. He will not take practical charge of the work, but will maintain offices in New York City, from which place he will superintend the work as the consulting engineer.

Mr. Cooper began his career as an engineer in Rochester, working in the offices of H. T. Horton, a bridge builder, as an architect. He rose from a humble position to one of the greatest engineers.

The building of the Keokuk dam was his great achievement in the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper sailed from Paris for New York on March 7. It is said the Egyptian Government paid him a small fortune for his plans for the Nile dam.

Cooper Chosen by British Envoy Who Inspected Work.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Hugh L. Cooper, the engineer who built the Keokuk Power Dam across the Mississippi and who has been chosen as a consulting engineer for the Egyptian Government in construction of a new hydro-electric dam across the Nile, was selected for the post by Sir Ralph Wilcox, supervising engineer of the famous Assouan Dam, when he was in the United States recently and saw Cooper's work at Keokuk.

Government inspectors who watched closely the work on the Keokuk Dam, pronounced it the finest structure of its kind in the world. Mr. Cooper also designed and built the power dam across the Susquehanna River at McCall's Ferry, regarded as one of the notable engineer works of the country.

His specialty has been the direction of long dams of small heads and as that is the problem presented to the engineers seeking to control the waters of the Nile, it is assumed it was this reputation that led to his selection by the Egyptian Government.

HAMMER ENGAGEMENT SURPRISE TO FRIENDS

Miss Decker's Mother Says Engagement Existed, but Was Known Only to Girl's Family.

Close friends and business associates of Marx Hammer, president of the Neusteter Cloak and Suit Co., who lost his life in the M. A. C. fire were surprised by the statement made in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch by Miss Elsie Decker of Belleville that she and Hammer had been engaged.

When told that Hammer's associates were not aware of the engagement Mrs. J. R. Decker, the young woman's mother, said that the bethrothal had been known only to her family and one or two other close friends. Mrs. Decker said Hammer had not asked her for her daughter's hand, but that Elsie had confided to her the betrothal, and the wedding had been planned to take place in October.

Mrs. Decker said her daughter met Hammer in St. Louis Sunday evening and both returned to the Decker home at about 8:45 p. m. She said Hammer remained at the house until midnight, then caught an inbound interurban car at 12:15 for St. Louis.

Hammer's friends said they knew he and Miss Decker were friends, but he had not told of an engagement. Mrs. Decker said her daughter and Hammer had known each other two years or more and had kept constant company.

Paris Doctor Says Kinematograph Method Will Cure.

PARIS, March 11.—A new method of curing stuttering by means of the kinematograph was described to the Academy of Science by Dr. Marage, who devised it. He has found that stutterers can be readily cured if their mistaken pronunciation of any word is shown to them on the film. He takes moving pictures of the stutterer and a normal person sitting side by side and pronouncing the same sentence. This film serves as a model for a course of practice which leads to a cure, he says.

Magnifying Misery Into Joy

Dyspeptics, Stomach Sufferers and Appetiteless People May Quickly Find Relief in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

When a stomach sufferer gets relief he is one of the happiest of human beings and he looks back at his old self with a distinct feeling of horror.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets quickly readjust the out-of-proportion stomach and digestive machinery and bring joy of life and love for food to the man or woman who will use them after each meal for a short time.

"Hully gee, I used to feel just like that fellow"

The action of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a purely natural one. When taken they enter the stomach just like food. They mix with the juices of the mouth. Then they enter into and correctly build up or dilute the juices of the stomach, go into the intestines and there when the nourishment from food is taken into the system so follows the ingredients of these wonderful tablets.

They correct the faults of the blood and thus at the next meal the body is better able to produce a stronger and more normal digestive juice.

A short use of these tablets will re-establish your digestion, stop gastritis, heartburn, indigestion, foul breath, catarrh of the stomach and do away with dangerous stomach ulcers and many other unbearable conditions.

Go to your druggist today and begin the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet habit. It is the habit of health and appetite. Learn how to yearn for food, not how to spurn it.

Obtain a box from any druggist—price 50 cents. Sold wherever you can find a drug store.—ADV.

DETECTIVE SNIFFS OUT A PERFUMED PAIR AS BURGLARS

Scents Same Odor He Noticed in Robbed Home and Arrests Ex-Convict and Wife.

ANOTHER MAN IS HELD

Woman, Whose Residence Was Looted of Jewels, Identifies Cologne Bottle as Hers.

A detective's keen scent for perfume resulted in the application for a warrant, Wednesday, against Charles Vance and his wife, Lilian, charging them with robbing the home of John P. Young, 3515 Sullivan avenue, on March 2.

After the Vances had been arrested at 3316 Arlington avenue, Detective Edward Doyle recognized the perfume Mrs. Vance was using as having a similar odor to that he had noticed in the Young home when he went there to investigate the burglary. A cut-glass bottle filled with a favorite perfume had been stolen from the Young home. The bottle, containing some of the perfume, was found in the house where the Vances have been living and was identified by Mrs. Young.

Recognizes Familiar Perfume.

The Vances were arrested Tuesday afternoon at the Arlington avenue house on information that Vance, who is an ex-convict and is reputed to be a daylight burglar, had been seen going to and from the house with suitcases. They said their home was at 2132 O'Fallon street, but that they had been living in the Arlington avenue house for a week.

Doyle was talking to Mrs. Vance at the detective bureau when it struck him that the perfume she was using was familiar. Then he remembered that he had scented the same odor at the Young home and that a bottle of Mrs. Young's perfume had been stolen along with $175 worth of jewelry. He ascertained from the police report of the burglary the name of the perfume and then spoke to Chief Allender about it.

The Chief sent Doyle and two other detectives back to the Arlington avenue house to search for the bottle. They found on the kitchen sink a cut glass bottle with the name of the perfume blown into it, containing an ounce of the perfume.

Burglar's Outfit Found.

They found Gertrude Delong, 18 years old, and Remmer Delong, 15 years old, sister and brother of Mrs. Vance, at the house, and arrested them. Edward Hogan, an electrician, of 2711 Sheridan avenue, entered and hung his overcoat on the halltree before he saw the detectives. They arrested him. In his overcoat they found a 38-caliber revolver, loaded, and a list of furniture in the flat, which was headed "Hogan's Furniture."

Under a bed was found a gallon can of linseed oil and a gallon can of turpentine. A burglar's flashlight and a "double jimmy," suitable for prying up window sashes, also were found.

Bottle Identified as Stolen.

The furniture, the police say, answers the description of some that was purchased July 11, 1913, from the Reliable Furniture Co., 724 Franklin avenue, by two women, who paid $10, gave an address on Montgomery street and hauled it away in their own wagon.

The Fire Prevention Bureau will be asked to investigate the presence of the linseed oil and turpentine in the house.

Mrs. Young identified the bottle as having been stolen from her home. Hogan was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

The police say Vance was sent to the penitentiary for 2½ years for burglarizing the home of Mrs. Kate Castleman on Lindell boulevard, near Grand avenue.

On Aug. 4, 1913, Vance and his wife were arrested on the charge of shoplifting at a department store. They were released on common law bonds signed by August G. Schacht of 5365 Goodfellow avenue. They forfeited their bonds, Aug. 18, in Judge Miller's court. Vance and his wife gave their ages as 22 years.

WIFE DINES 2 HUSBANDS

Mme. Kubelik Has Jan and His Predecessor at Tea.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Mme. Jan Kubelik, wife of the violinist, yesterday had another interesting tea party in her apartment at the Ritz Carlton. Besides her present husband, the party included her first husband, Count Kalman Czacky, and the present Countess Czacky.

Several weeks ago she entertained her two husbands in the same way. The former Countess Czacky and the Count are still good friends.

KILLS HIS TWIN BROTHER

WESTFORK, Ark., March 11.—Sharod Field, 19 years old, shot and killed his twin brother today after they had quarrel about a line between their property.

The living brother alleges he was attacked with a knife and in self-defense seized a shotgun and fired. The men so closely resembled each other that neighbors could scarcely distinguish one from the other.

MOON TO BE IN ALMOST TOTAL ECLIPSE TONIGHT

It Will Enter Shadow Here at 8:11, Be Nearly Hidden at 10:12, Emerge at 11:44.

An almost total eclipse of the moon will take place tonight. It will be visible throughout America, in Western Europe and Asia. At St. Louis the moon will enter the shadow at 8:41 p. m., the eclipse will be greatest at 10:12 and the moon will leave the shadow at 11:44.

According to the Rev. Martin S. Brennan, the St. Louis astronomer, the eclipse will be about 92 per cent total. It will be the first time this particular kind of eclipse has been visible in 18 years and 11 days and it will be 18 years and 11 days before it is visible again.

This did not mean, Father Brennan said, that there would not be other eclipses, some of them total, before this recurrence. He explained the phenomenon by saying that eclipses of the moon always take place when it is at the full. The earth is directly between the sun and the moon and its shadow more than covers the surface of the satellite. That any gleam from the moon is at all visible is due to the character of the earth's atmosphere.

If the earth's plane and the moon's plane were the same there would be an eclipse every time there is a full moon. But they are not quite in the same plane. If the angle of difference were smaller there would be more eclipses and if larger there would be fewer.

If a line were drawn from the moon to the earth and then from the earth to the sun, a certain angle would be observed. This particular angle will not occur again for 18 years and 11 days.

BOARD TO LET GILL DEVELOP QUARRIES AT STE. GENEVIEVE

Capitol Commission Says Stone May Come From Any Place If It Meets Requirements.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—The controversy between the State Capitol Commission and Contractor K. F. Gill over the question of procuring stone for the new State capitol apparently is nearing a solution.

It was learned today the commission will not interfere with the development of the Ste. Genevieve quarry by Gill, and if he can prove by experts that the stone is as good as can be procured in the State and fully meets the specifications of the architects it will be approved. He also must show the commission that the deposit is large enough to complete the building.

"There is no immediate hurry about the stone," said Alfred A. Speer, vice-chairman of the commission, today. "No stone will be needed until about June 1, at the earliest.

"The commission wants the best stone there is in Missouri and we do not care whether it is from Ste. Genevieve, Carthage, Cassville or Phenix quarries.

"When the commission is convinced that there is enough good stone to build a capitol and that it comes fully up to the requirements of the specifications, we will immediately approve it."

DON'T SCOLD A CROSS, SICK CHILD BUT GIVE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Look at the tongue, mother. If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach ache, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in just a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little stomach and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless fruit laxative; they love its delicious taste and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "Califonia Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—ADV.

GETTING GRAY? USE SAGE TEA TO RESTORE NATURAL COLOR OF YOUR HAIR

Says Sage Tea when Mixed with Sulphur Darkens the Hair Just Beautifully and Removes Dandruff.

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair, says a well-known local pharmacist. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and even today this simple preparation has no equal. Millions of women and men too, who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive use only Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Nowadays we are not bothered with the task of gathering the sage leaves and the mussy mixing at home. Simply ask at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of the ready to use preparation, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Customers like this best because it darkens so naturally; so evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it contains ingredients which take off dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. No, it isn't a dye or even like it. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair they say it brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—ADV.

"Yes, daughter, that's FINE for SPRAINS

You've only put it on twice, and the pain's all gone, and my arm's 'bout as well as ever. I sure never saw anything so quick as Sloan's."

So say thousands of others who have used Sloan's Liniment for many years for burns, scalds, cuts and sprains.

Helped Her Knee

Mrs. T. E. Williams, of Chicago, Ill., writes: "This winter I sprained my knee, and a friend recommended Sloan's Liniment. I used it and it did me lots of good."

A Quick Improvement

Mr. L. Roland Bishop, of Scranton, Pa., writes: "As I was leaving my office for lunch, I slipped and fell, spraining my wrist, and at four o'clock could not hold a pencil in my hand. At five o'clock I purchased a bottle of your Liniment, used it five or six times before I went to bed, and the next day I was able to use my hand as usual."

Best for Sprained Wrist

Miss H. S. Spokesfield, of Linwood, Mass., writes: "The other day I called on my neighbor, a beautiful old lady 73 years old, who had fallen upstairs and sprained her wrist. I asked her what she was doing for it, and she said she was using Sloan's—the best liniment there is."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

has great antiseptic power. Use it for cuts, wounds, burns, and the sting of poisonous insects.

Exolains To Thin Ladies

A Simple but Sure Method of Developing a Well-Rounded Bust and Figure.

(From the New York Journal.)

It is a simple but sure method of developing the bust, arms, neck, hips and shoulders of women, who through some defect of nutrition and circulation are forever being humiliated by their more fortunate sisters. First, it must be understood that the human skin is an enormous gland, richly endowed with nerves, secreting and excreting organs, and a network of minute blood vessels which contains at one time over one-third of all the blood in the body—that is, if nature is perfect.

The relation of the skin to the vital organs through the nervous system in controlling the blood supply is such as to put them as a team working together.

Thus, by applications daily of this rare combination of secret oils, known to druggists as medicated venosol, the figure is readily transformed from thinness and flatness to one of plumpness and graceful rounding curves.

The preparation is sold in sealed tubes with directions for home use. By regular use 'tis said to work marvelous changes in the figure, by expert beauty doctors who have used it for some years past.—ADVERTISEMENT.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Help for the Unemployed.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Many of the unemployed are no doubt unable to perform physical labor, but many of them are of middle age, strong and healthy, are unable to secure work, as no one seems willing to give work to men of middle age; they want young men. What are they to do? They must live, and some solution must be found.

Someone, be he a promoter, a capitalist or one controlled through a public-spirit motive, should take the initiative in organizing a stock company for the purpose of suppying funds to those people who may wish to go to the country and raise garden and other truck, or do other things to which his knowledge and talents may best be suited. The money derived from the sale of stock could be loaned in monthly installments, such loans to be secured by note and mortgage.

Dead beats and other undesirable classes could be eliminated by careful investigation of the applicant. Conduct the financial operation along the lines of the "poor man's bank," except, of course, the time of payment. The association would also sell the crop and handle the proceeds, to charge interest on the loan, as well as for selling and other expenses of operating. A great many things could be raised, where it would require but very few implements, after the ground has once been plowed. A hired team for a short term would suffice.

A daily or monthly report could be required of each one, showing just what has been accomplished and conditions in general. A visit at various times could be made in person, by the association members. Something of this nature would supply many with means to relieve their present condition, and at the same time prove a good money investment. RUBE.

"A Sign of Old Age."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Longfellow is again quoted as saying that "a disposition to wear old clothes is one of the signs of old age." Old men have no such disposition. They simply don't like to go to the trouble of getting new clothes. I would not object to getting into a new suit every day if it were ready for me before breakfast. OLD MAN.

Police Activity of the Wrong Kind.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The frequent criticism directed against the St. Louis Police Department for the poor showing in capturing some of the murderers and highway robbers operating here recently is quite natural and entirely justified. During the last three months five most revolting murders have been committed here and one successful arrest. In fact, I think that, compared to other large cities, the intelligence and ability of the detective force here is very far behind in accomplishment. Now, until last Saturday, I was inclined to wonder at the apparent incapacity of the average St. Louis detective, but on that evening I witnessed an instance of their stupidity, so that I marvel no longer at their constant failures.

At about 11:30 p. m. Saturday, at Eighteenth street and Franklin avenue, there were six detectives engaged in stopping every man or boy and compelling him to submit to a search for guns. From one victim one of the sleuths (small "s" please) took a paper or letter and read it before returning it.

This was just one block from where the $10,000 Brown Shoe Co. robbery occurred the day before, and no doubt these great detectives presumed that the robbers had remained conveniently and obligingly in the neighborhood, it being merely a matter of finding the first two men with a gun to secure the guilty parties.

But how about the constitutional guarantee of this great State that is supposed to protect every citizen against unreasonable search?

R. MELSHAU.

Advice to Clerks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The letter signed, "Punch" has some merit and good advice. An organization is a good thing. There is one; join it, Mr. Clerk! Establish yourself, get acquainted with your boss. He might have something higher up; you might get to be the head salesman. I have been one all my life and proud of it. I will admit I am not rich and never wanted to be. That sounds funny, don't it? But I got married on $40 per month, am still living; raised two boys, who are worth more to me than the Frisco Railroad. Perhaps you know them.

My advice, Mr. Clerk, is to get busy, marry one of the girl clerks and see how happy you will be.

ADOLPH.

SAFETY FIRST.

The best memorial for the M. A. C. dead—some of whom sacrificed their lives for others—is the assurance of safety for the living.

The Municipal Assembly's resolution directing Building Commissioner McKelvey and Fire Chief Swingley to compile a list of fire traps and the Coroner's announced intention to fix responsibility for the M. A. C. disaster are steps in the right direction.

We should have no more fire traps lying in wait for unsuspecting victims. Let us have done with anticipated unheeded warnings and unenforced regulations.

The power of the city is sufficient to close every fire trap. The law is adequate. The regulations are ample to guard against ordinary risks.

But the efficiency of law lies in its enforcement. The power of the city depends upon its exercise through law enforcement. The law is no better than the men who are charged with its enforcement make it.

We need an awakening to the necessity of enforcing the laws. Mere warnings, summonses and pleasant conversations count for nothing. Inflict the penalities of law violations until the law is obeyed. Close the fire traps.

Safety first should be the rule.

A POOR BUSINESS.

I have been in that business for seven years.—Henry Batter before the Calumet & Hecla Investigating Committee.

"That business" was the business of stirring up unnecessary trouble in labor conflicts, of provoking strikers to violence, of committing depredations that can be charged up against strikers. It is a poor business and should be abandoned. That it exists affords the public a more definite idea as to the possible origin of some of the more regrettable phases of labor contests.

VOLUNTEERS FOR ST. LOUIS.

Citizens are volunteering to circulate the initiative petitions for the bridge bond issue. It is good work for St. Louis. The spirit that prompts St. Louisans to devote their time and energy freely to completing a great public work is the spirit that makes a city great.

The offers of organizations and of individual citizens to obtain signatures assures an efficient corps of men to circulate petitions.

Let the field of volunteering be expanded. Let it be extended to the whole body of citizens. Let us have citizens volunteering to sign the petitions—men who will not wait to be asked but will seek the solicitors and voluntarily swell the lists.

The larger the number of petitioners the better the chance of completing the bridge. The obstructive combine in the House of Delegates could not resist a petition signed by 40,000 or 50,000 voters. That many signers would assure the success of the bond proposal. It would mean a vast army of workers for the bonds.

The community spirit—the spirit of united effort for the public welfare—is the prime factor in municipal progress. The evidence of this spirit in the bridge completion movement is a most encouraging sign of the awakening of St. Louis. The arousing of this spirit will do more than complete the bridge—it will accomplish every good thing.

The State has 416 commercial clubs. To unite their strength in a league is to adopt the Aesop lesson from the father who gave his sons the bundle of sticks.

IN 129 WORDS.

President Wilson characterized the canal tolls exemption in 420 words. It can be done in less. The exemption is a rebate, on a public highway. Such a rebate is unlawful. It is a graft—an indirect theft from the taxpayers. Its indorsement in the Baltimore platform was a mistake—or a trick. Its retention in the law would be a crime. Transcontinental railroads want it retained, because they own the coastwise ships to which the rebate is granted, and would collect the graft, a cool million or more yearly.

With few exceptions the country's leading newspapers—Democratic, Republican and Progressive—demand repeal. Honest members of Congress will vote for repeal. Others—and a few anti-foreign fanatics—will oppose repeal. Public opinion will wipe this graft off the statute books.

BOSTON MYSTERIES.

Boston women, piqued by the canny caution of Boston bachelors, have asked the Massachusetts legislature to enact a law fixing two years as the legal limit of a courtship and taxing each bachelor $5 a year to be used in aid of worthy spinsters who are believed to have passed the marriageable age." This extraordinary news gives rise to numerous fascinating speculations in our untutored Western mind.

Why should Boston's lovely spinsters wish to marry cowards or romantic recreants—except, of course, as a last resort?

When does a Boston spinster pass the marriageable age?

What is a "worthy" spinster—how defined?

Is a not-worthy spinster's need, and natural right to, a husband, less than that of a worthy spinster? Or are the unworthy spinsters deemed able, as we suspect, to provide for themselves without State aid?

Why cannot Boston's spinsters, like those of the West, set limits to a courtship without calling upon the Legislature for help?

Why do not Boston's spinsters—if their case be so desperate—ask the State to declare an open season on bachelors?

In what way was the fact established that the Boston bachelor will surrender his freedom rather than pay a tax of $5 a year? Is freedom now of so little worth in its historic cradle?

Would the State use the proceeds of the bachelor tax to send Boston's worthy spinsters out West, the land of short and ardent courtships, or would it use the fund to bring game Westerners to Boston?

Have the Boston spinsters not neglected the law of the attraction of opposites, and held themselves haughtily aloof and above the ant youths from Ireland, Italy, Roumania and r foreign parts, who now, with their vivid coloring and their high ambitions, make Boston a pony Cosmopolis? Surely there, in the hearts of these keen young adventurers, is waiting that rapturous welcome and mating which Boston's daughters, gazing sadly on Boston's chill-blooded and too timorous native sons, sigh for in vain.

But despite the dent Judge John F. Hairston put in it at Jefferson City, Gov. Major will probably stick to his idea that the only way to secure a bigger, better, happier Missouri is by Federal pork barrel appropriations.

A FAIR LOOP FRANCHISE.

The report that the receivers of the Southern Illinois Traction Co. are willing to recommend to the Court the acceptance of an ordinance protecting the company's right to entrance to the city and the use of the loop on fair terms is gratifying.

It is understood that the receivers are willing to accept a repeal of the 50-year franchise with a substitute providing for a reduction of the term and an option to purchase, or an indeterminate franchise, but they want a clause guaranteeing the company the use of loop facilities so the bondholders will be assured that their investment will be safe.

This is a fair attitude. It enables the Municipal Assembly to settle the loop controversy by passing an ordinance which will protect the interests of the company and assure the city the benefits of the company's entrance without exclusive bridge or loop privileges which will interfere with the city's plans for the future or the entrance of other trolley lines.

A settlement on fair terms of this kind would dispose of loop troubles and remove the last obstacle to bridge completion.

The Municipal Assembly should act promptly in accordance with this proposal.

FOR A BETTER MISSOURI.

As explained by President William Hirth in his opening address, the object of the State Federation of Commercial Clubs, which is holding its first convention in Jefferson City, is "to make Missouri a better State to live in."

The power of organization, co-operation and concerted action could be devoted to no more worthy object. It is one that should command the interested attention of all Missourians. The different territorial units and trade centers of the State need to be brought closer together. The long inventory of State assets needs larger publicity. Ideas of demonstrated practicability in creating new State assets need to be brought home to the people. In effort of this sort, contributory to the general aim of bettering State conditions, the federation has undoubted possibilities of usefulness. The idea of co-operative creameries in the rural regions, for which it is already working, is an example of the undertakings to which it can give effective support.

The first convention shows the federation has a promising field. Participants are assured of the Post-Dispatch's interest and experienced assistance in all judicious plans for furthering the object on which it has already been long engaged—making ours a better State to live in.

TAFT FOR SUPREME JUDGE.

That President Wilson will appoint ex-President Taft to the Supreme Court is a belief strengthened by fresh report.

No President has shown a graver sense of responsibility in appointments to the Supreme Court than Mr. Taft himself. It is worth while to recall what he said two years ago, when asked what had been the hardest work he had done in the White House:

> Unquestionably the appointment of men to the judiciary. I have always regarded this as one of my most sacred and difficult duties. And I am proud of the characters and nobility of the men I have put upon the bench. Nothing could ever make me regret the hours, nights and days I have spent in deciding upon the men to be intrusted with guarding the rights of the people under the Constitution and the law. The importance of the judiciary is gigantic.

To no single President since the Supreme Court was organized in 1789 did the duty of appointments fall more heavily. Five—a majority—of the present incumbents are of his choosing; and incidentally he exhibited liberality and good judgment in making a Louisiana Democrat Chief Justice, thus preserving political and sectional balance.

Though at times he lacked sympathy with or comprehension of popular motives and democratic ideals, as executive, yet Mr. Taft's judicial understanding, conscience and temper have never been at fault. A good and just Judge on the bench, he bore the judicial character predominantly throughout his executive experience. That essential character, broadened by experience and developed somewhat in sympathetic insight to progressive thought, he would bring to the Supreme Court.

His appointment would realize his original ambition, which he yielded to become a member of the Roosevelt Cabinet—perhaps the paramount ambition of his life. It would grace the administration and adorn the character of his successor; no handsomer thing could be done by a presidential victor towards his late foe than raising him to that eminence. Mr. Taft himself, towards a rival in his own party whom he superceded in his rise to the presidency, performed an act of similar good will in appointing Mr. Hughes to the Supreme bench.

It would be the first instance in the history of our country when a President should afterwards serve on the Supreme Court. Nor have we ever had an ex-Justice serve as President. There can be no doubt of the value of the executive experience for the judgeship—a unique qualification that should be evident in, and perhaps signalize, Justice Taft's work. That he would exert, unconsciously both to himself and to his confreres, a distinct influence upon the court to which he had appointed a majority of its members is a probability within the range of human nature.

Finally, by the appointment of Mr. Taft, Mr. Wilson will have solved, in one case at least, the problem of what to do with our ex-Presidents—when they are good Judges.

SOME MULE!

JUST A MINUTE.

WHEN THE BOATS COME BACK.

WHEN the boats come back in boating time
Is a mighty pleasant season, too;
The sky grows tender and sublime,
And the founts of happiness renew.
The ice is gone, the way is clear,
The pilot bells are all a-chime,
And the whistle blasts are sweet to hear,
After the Winter long and drear,
When the boats come back in boating time.

WHEN the boats come back in boating time
The thrill of life goes up the shore;
It rouses people maritime,
And knocks upon the closed door.
The cold is gone, the trade is on,
The time for happiness is prime,
And the rising river mists at dawn
Are beautiful to look upon,
When the boats come back in boating time.

There will be few tears shed when wood is no longer available for building purposes. It is almost bound to burn some time.

The Groundhog, or What Is the Matter With Poetry in Indiana.

Six weeks more of cold and snow,
The groundhog is blamed for it.
Why not in this progressive age
Read up a little bit.

And see if He who rules above
Has not got something to say
Of how long its wet, how long its cold
And when is goundhog day.

It seems to me that God knows best
What we poor mortals need;
If we but trust Him he'll do the rest
And the groundhog will get his feed.

And though the spring be early or late
Or the weather be very fine,
Just let us get a move on us
And thus improve the time.

And trust in Him who sends to us
The sunshine and the rain:
We'll not care a cent if the groundhog
Ever comes out again.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

A. L.—It is said that acid fruits should not be cooked in aluminum, and that nothing with salt in it should come next to the metal.

THANK.—Wall paper paste, for general purposes: Take about 4 lbs. good white wheat flour and stir into a stiff batter; then beat free from lumps and thin down more or less, as may be required, with cold water. If paste is not to be used for gilt papers (also called "metal" or "gold" papers), add 2 oz. powdered alum (alum must not be used with gilts, as it turns the gilt dark); also add, if wished, a little borax, copperas, or carbolic acid, to prevent insects. Having stirred batter well, pour in water boiling (nearly boiling will not do). Give a few turns with paddle, and then pour in boiling water fast and stir rapidly until paste begins to swell and thicken, and to lose the whiteness of the flour. It is then cooked. Then, if necessary, thin with more water to make spread easily. This paste may be used warm, but will go farther if left standing until cold, by which time it will have become whiter.

LAW POINTS.

THANK YOU.—License for small store is necessary.

DOUBT.—Workmen's compensation act applies to those employed by railroads, factories, mines, quarries, electric, building or engineering work, laundries, natural gas plants and all employments requiring the use of dangerous explosives or inflammable materials. The amount of compensation allowed in case of injury or death is as follows: In case of death—If workman leaves any dependents who are wholly dependent upon his earnings—an amount equal to three times his earnings for the preceding year, not exceeding $3600, and not less than $1200. In case he does not leave any dependents, then amount of compensation shall not exceed $75[illegible] In arriving at the amount of his earnings, the workman's wages for the 3 days prior to his death is to be used as a basis for such computation. In case of total incapacity, 50 per cent of average weekly earnings, in no case less than $6 a week or more than $15, beginning the second week after the accident. In case of partial incapacity, not less than 25 per cent of his average weekly earnings, or more than 50 per cent during the time of his incapacity, beginning the second week after the accident. Payments for partial or total incapacity shall not extend over a period exceeding 10 years. Payments in all cases are made in same manner and in same place as payments for regular salaries. Payments are not subject to being assigned, to levy, execution or attachment, except for medicine, medical attention or for nursing. All employes of railroads are assumed to be under the provisions of the law unless they have served written notice upon their employer that they would exempt themselves from the law. In case any other corporation subject to the provision of the law does not bring itself within the law, then, in case any employe who is under the law brings an action for damage, the railroad is barred from setting up in court the common defenses so frequently used: (a) That the employe either expressly or implied assumed the risk of hazard; (b) that the injury or death was caused in whole or in part by the want of due care of a fellow servant; (c) that said employe was guilty of contributory negligence.

EARNEST.—"To secure typewriting to be done at home in the evenings," advertise, or solicit personally. Even then you might not get it.

SUB.—The timing of automobile valves and of magneto is too intricate a matter to be made plain here. Get an instruction book from the agent who handles your make of car. It tells how to do it. Or, better still, get it done by an expert repair man.

READER.—Indenture as a legal instrument comes from the fact that formerly, in executing a deed the counterparts it was written with both parts on one sheet, leaving a blank strip between them; the parts were indented by being cut asunder in notched or wavering line and the instrument was called an indenture.

READER.—All world's records for typewriting speed were broken at the National Business Show at New York, Oc. 21, 1913, by Miss Margaret B. Owen of New York, who wrote 154 words a minute during an hour's dictation. The previous record was 117 words. Miss Owen was awarded the silver trophy valued at $1000. Emil A. Tresseger was second with a speed of 120 words, while his brother, G. R. Tresseger, was third with 117 words a minute.

GAP.—For police, get application blank from secretary of Board of Police Commissioners. New policeman must have residence in the city four consecutive years and have been a qualified voter three years. Age, 21 to 35; height, not less than 5 feet 6; weight not less than 150 pounds; physical proportions must be good; must read and write English understandingly and must have signatures of 10 citizens to his application. Must pass physical examination. Patrolman, mounted or on foot, $90 a month; probationary, $65. No fees.

J. W.—We know of no prize that is offered for the idiotic feat of eating 30 quail in 30 days. More have been eaten in that time. Farmer Fullmer of Illinois ate 8 quail a day for 10 days. In 2 hours John Lehman of the B. & O. Railroad ate 18 eggs, 6 pancakes, 2 quarts of maple syrup, 5 mince pies, 9 apples, 10 onions, 1 cream, 2 lbs. frankfurters, 7 cups of coffee, 2 loaves of bread, half pound of butter. He contentedly strolled out of the room picking his teeth while 11 defeated contestants arose and solemnly saluted as he passed.

A. B. A.—Some superstitions: To turn a loaf of bread upside down is ill luck. To dream of snakes is a sign that you have an enemy. To dream of pickin blackberries is a sign of sickness. Sewing in the twilight is an ill omen. To dream of a horse is a sign of a letter. Rain water caught in August will cure freckles. Wear no black at a wedding it foretells ill luck. Always shut the doors or you will never own a house. If a girl put a four-leaf clover in her shoe, the first man who comes on the side where the clover is will be her future husband. Common belief that crooked money is lucky is of ancient date. It is said there was never a good hand of cards containing four clubs. Such a hand is called "the devil's four poster." It is an old Scotch superstition that if a child be born between the hours of 12 and 1 (midnight) it will see all ghosts and goblins. New Englanders in 1763 believed that if a man ate potatoes every day he could not live seven years, so in the spring of each year they burned all tubers that were left on hand.

NO SIG.—The first automobile in St. Louis is claimed by William A. Blickney, who says: From memory and the best data I have at hand it was in 1897. The machine was of German make, imported by a friend of mine, Mr. Oscar Reinach. He brought it to Indianapolis and from there sent it to me on trial in charge of a mechanic (chauffeurs unknown then). The "little thing" was as obstinate as a mule, occasionally starting off like a sky rocket, but most of the time declining to budge without considerable humoring and assistance. When stopping it gave out a noise resembling a clock running down and while in motion it wheezed like a winded broken horse. The finish of this auto was unlike any I have ever heard of; the order of things was reversed. It was run over by a dray team on Eighth and Olive streets and completely put out of commission. The mechanic took the wreck back to Indianapolis and, never hearing from it again, I presume it was buried in a scrap pile there, a disgrace to the auto family, being the only member ever known to get knocked out by a horse.

NEGRO POPULATION OF CITIES.

From the Louisville Post.

The Philadelphia Ledger gathers together some interesting figures as to the negro population in the largest cities of the country.

Washington, D. C., heads the list with the largest negro population, the total being 94,446, as against 91,709 in New York City, although the total population in New York is 14 or 15 times that of Washington.

Other cities show the following population of negroes:

New Orleans	89,262	Richmond, Va.	46,733
Baltimore	84,749	Chicago	44,103
Philadelphia	84,459	St. Louis	43,960
Memphis	52,441	Louisville	40,522
Birmingham	52,305	Nashville	36,523
Atlanta	51,902	Indianapolis	21,816

In proportion to population there are almost exactly as many negroes in Baltimore as in Louisville. New Orleans has a considerably larger proportion, while Memphis, Birmingham, Atlanta and Richmond have many more negroes, although a smaller population than Louisville.

The back-to-the-land theory of Prof. Washington is being followed to some extent by Southern negroes, but the concentration in the cities continues very large.

BORLAND AGAINST "PORK."

From the Kansas City Star.

Representative Borland defended the people of Representative Shackleford's district as well as those of his own district when he attacked the 25 million-dollar "pork" bill that Mr. Shackelford has labeled "Federal aid for good roads."

Mr. Borland's speech was in answer to a speech by Mr. Shackleford in which the latter tried to distract attention from the pork in his bill by setting up an imaginary "lobby" against it and then knocking over that imaginary "lobby."

As Mr. Borland has shown, the Shackleford bill would simply split up among the politicians of the 48 states $25,000,000 of the taxpayers' money. It would give the politicians of Missouri control of about $1,000,000—which would not do any good to the 107,000 miles of public roads in the State, but would be mighty handy for the politicians to spend in an election year.

A PLEA FOR SUFFRAGE.

Jane Addams.

If woman would fulfill her traditional responsibility to her own children, if she would educate and protect from danger factory children who must find their recreation on the street; if she would bring the cultural forces to bear upon our materialistic civilization; and if she would do it all with the dignity and directness fitting one who carries on her immemorial duties, then she must bring herself to the use of the ballot—that latest implement for self-government. May we not fairly say that American women need this implement in order to preserve the home?

One Man in a Thousand

In Which Man's Natural Protective Instinct Is Shown

By F. J. KNIGHT ADKIN.

I.

TO this day, Theodore Dodd doesn't quite understand how it was that his romance turned out as it did—or, to be more exact, did not turn out at all, but exploded into nothingness, like a bubble in midair. Even now, he will carelessly twist at the place where a vivid imagination has endowed him with a luxuriant mustache, and modestly affirm that, but for some slight, unknown circumstance, he would be helping to enjoy a handsome income, instead of standing all day behind a shop counter.

It happened in this way:

One morning he boarded a car at his usual time and place. Settling down into the last unoccupied seat, he immediately buried himself in his paper, lest he should be expected to make room for a lady who had just entered. After informing himself of the news of the world by a cursory glance at the largest headlines, he turned to a murder trial and two prize fights. Having mentally reversed the Judge's decision in each case, he next sought the "agony column," as being the only other part of the paper worth perusal.

The following paragraph immediately caught his eye and touched his sympathetic heart:

Orphaned heiress wishes to correspond with a gentleman (object matrimony) who can manage her affairs for her, but whose affection must be dis-interested.

He read it through again, with no thought but of pity for a friendless girl.

"After all," he moralized, "what selfish brutes we men are! Instead of leading a useless life, striving after my own creature comforts, what a ray of sunshine I might bring into that poor girl's heart bf giving her someone to love and cling to!"

All day this sentimental spirit was upon him, enwrapping his senses so closely that he gave short change to no less than five customers, and forgot to be rude when it was noticed. On his way home he made up his mind to put all thoughts of self aside, and sacrifice himself to the friendless girl. With this noble resolve in his mind, he spent the evening composing an answer to the advertisement. His first attempt began:

Dearest, I should love you as much if you sold flowers on the street.

This seemed to express too much sentiment considering their lack of acquaintance, so he tore it up and tried again.

Madam—I can present excellent testimonials as to my business capabilities.

This seemed too formal, and had to be rejected, but eventually, after several abortive attempts, he turned out an effort which would, he flattered himself, convince a trust magnate of his business powers, or bring sentimental tears to the eyes of a marble statue.

He had not long to wait for a reply; next evening he found a little scented note awaiting him on his return home. His fingers trembling with eagerness, he opened it, and scanned the contents with increasing delight.

My Dear Mr. Dodd—Of all the hundreds of letters which I have received in answer to my advertisement, yours is the only one in which sordid green does not show through a veneer of mock affectation. It is hard that there should be so many eager to enrich themselves at the expense of a friendless girl of 20, but you, I feel, are different.

I have taken Box A at the Grand Theater for tomorrow night. Will you be in the theater with a red carnation in your buttonhole? If you are, please come and see me between the acts. Yours gratefully,

AGNES CO.

P. S.—My father left me $100,000. I thought I might mention it, though I know that the fact will not influence you in any way.

In Dodd's dreams that night, a fair, sylph-like creature answering to the name of Agnes figured largely, though not so conspicuously as a motor car and small steam yacht.

The next afternoon he left the shop early and purchased a seat at the theater with the air of one who usually took a box. On the boards outside he read the announcement that "The Prince of Freedom" would be played as a benefit performance for Mr. McBooth, the leading man. Then he made his way home, purchasing a large carnation and a collar of extraordinary height on the way.

Dressing proved such a lengthy operation that the curtain was already up when he made his way into the theater and pushed along to his seat in the dim light. On the stage, Mr. McBooth ranted and tore his hair on a moonlit river bank to slow music. This necessitated a lower of lights, and in consequence Dodd was unable to discern the occupant of Box A till the end of the first act.

When the lights were turned up, he discovered several facts simultaneously. The house was crowded with men, to the almost entire exclusion of the fairer sex. Each man wore a red carnation in his buttonhole; and hundreds of opera glasses, eyes, spectacles, and eyeglasses were directed at Box A, wherein sat an old gentleman who was speedily growing purple with astonishment and anger.

II.

Behind the scenes, Mr. McBooth was making calculations on the back of an old envelope.

"Stamps, scented note paper and advertisement in newspaper, $12.50. Box-office takings, $800 more than last night. Not so bad," he murmured, moving into the wings for his next entrance.

Experiences of Gladness

Drawn for the Post-Dispatch By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

By Marguerite Martyn.

IT is the beginning of a busy quarter-of-an-hour for Gladness. She encounters one of those odious creatures, a masher. Already has she learned to maintain a stony cast of countenance as she faces those groups of loafers that infest the sidewalks wherever pretty working girls are released.

Ah, but this one is different. Or is it only that Spring, the season of Nature's awakening is at hand! Has the breath of the jonquils she has just puchased stirred sleeping romance in her soul?

Anyway, while she is fumbling with the post-box a youth, seeing her overloaded arms, springs to her assistance, Gladness just reverts to native impulse and smiles a radiant "thank you" right up into his face.

Before she knows it she finds herself surrendering her heavy bundles to him and instances of flirtations that have turned out like fairy tales end flash through her mind. A moment later she knows that the whole scene has been observed by that snoopy floor manager whom, as we know, Gladness already has grown to despise. His vanity is not wounded for nothing and Gladness knows he will like nothing better than to call her to account for her pretended propriety in the past. Suppose he deprives her of her precious job!

Romance fades away in our practical Gladness' mind. She would like to throw the pot of jonquils at the youth's head. Stupid, he persists in carrying them for her. Her next impulse is to seek refuge with that big and friendly looking motorman whose car she has somehow got the habit of waiting for each evening. She rushes to her accustomed seat on the sandbox. The motorman is quick to perceive that she is annoyed. He makes quick work of the masher.

Indiscretion, retribution, repentance have followed each other in rapid succession. But our Gladness is not given to retrospection. Her smiles are upon the motorman now. "All men are not mashers," she argues steadfastly with herself.

When a Man's Lonely

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB.

"THIS simple accident of falling in love is as beneficial as it is astonishing. It arrests the petrifying influence of years, disproves cold-blooded and cynical conclusions and awakens dormant sensibilities," said Robert Louis Stevenson.

While the eugenic experts are working overtime in the direction of future folk, there is something to be said about the good old-fashioned people who fell in love "right then and there," without meditation or mediation

They just couldn't help it. That is the kind that counts. Those who shut out love exclude the very root of life itself and often are themselves but the fallen dry dead leaves of existence. Rev. Dr. Van de Water stated recently that there were 750,000 men and women in New York City under 35 years who ought to be married. He believes social centers should bring them together.

Why are there so many bachelors in the world? And why are there so many people who can safely say, "I have never been in love?"

Is it because their hearts are hardened and do not beat like others? Is it because of preconceived notions as to what the "right one" ought to be?

Is there anything sadder in the world than the little white-haired woman who told me the other day, "No man ever said to me, 'I love you?'" Do you think there is not someone in the universe who, had he known her, could have truthfully said so.

"How could I have met her?" do you ask, Mr. Bachelor?

Certainly not by a stone wall of disinterest with every woman that you meet. Just a "How do you do?" and "good-by" never begets love. Cultivating an incentive for interest, even at the very first, is the thing that often leads to the happiest results.

While you are trying your level best to be a bachelor you are outliving the growing pains of falling in love. At 20 you say, "I wonder whom I will have," but at 40 you reflect as to who will have you.

How, then, shall you fall in love? By taking the chance. Seek the society of women. There are so many. Cultivate those interesting to you. Somewhere, sometime (perhaps all of a sudden) the One Woman may loom up right in front of you. It may be "love at first sight." And the joy that each and all of us crave may be yours.

After all, man as yet must take the initiative. HE must seek. There is always a SHE willing to be found. And when the two right people find each other the KNOWLEDGE that each cares is the book of life in itself.

Don't hesitate to hail the car of love. But watch your step!

Finger Print History.

THE late M. Bertillon has been spoken of as the inventor of the finger-print system, but he is, of course, nothing of the kind, although the mistaken idea has been flourishing for 30 years. Sir Francis Galton, the founder of eugenics and Scotland Yard are responsible for the perfection of the system in this country. It was known in China ages ago and was adopted by the Indian police before it was introduced into this country on the initiative of Sir Francis Galton, who predeceased his eminent colleague, M. Bertillon.

In his interesting autobiography, Galton deals with this popular impression about M. Bertillon. He states that he recommended the finger-print system to M. Bertillon, and quotes a letter from the French scientist, in which he expressed the opinion that the system was too complicated for his assistants. He afterwards saw its advantages.—London Chronicle.

DANDRUFFY HEADS BECOME HAIRLESS

Scalp Dries — Chokes Out the Hair and Prevents Its Growth.

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will be silky, fluffy, lustrous, soft and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—ADV.

Sonny

Sandman Story of a Boy Who Made Good.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

SONNY was a little boy, not more than 7 years of age, but he felt the cares of a nation resting on his young shoulders, for didn't he have to care for the baby sister and Bob, who was only 5, while his mother was away working.

Sonny's father was dead, and, although Sonny's real name was the same as his father's had been, no one ever thought of calling him James, or even Jimmie. Sonny he had been to his mother and Sonny he was to all who knew him.

And a good son he was; he went to school in the morning while the baby slept and little Bob was tied with a rope around his waist and fastened to the floor with a staple.

Sonny would get their lunch and tidy the room, and if the day was pleasant he would put the baby in a little cart made from a soap box and take Rob by the hand and go to the park.

And such wonderful stories as he told them about the fish in the pond and the animals in the cages.

One day while Sonny was telling one of his wonderful stories two boys about his age came along, and seeing the queer-looking cart made of the soap box, they began to laugh, and one of them said, "Where did you get the swell gig?"

Sonny did not reply, and when they saw he did not notice them they kicked the cart and made it roll down the bank by the pond.

"Don't do that again," said Sonny, as he caught the cart just before it went into the pond.

"He doesn't want us to touch his grand carriage," said one of the boys. "Who will stop us, I should like to know?" he asked as he caught the handle and ran around the pond.

Poor Sonny, he could not run after him to recover his precious cart, for he did not dare leave baby and Bob so near the edge of the pond.

Sonny picked up the baby and Bob followed him to a seat under the trees. "They'll get tired of running," he told Bob, "and then we can get the cart. It is no use to chase them."

The boys came running back with the cart, and when they were near to Sonny one of them said: "I am going to throw your old cart into the pond; it isn't any good." He ran down the bank as he spoke, pushing the cart ahead of him, and just as he reached the end of the pond he stumbled and in he went, and the cart with him. His companion screamed and ran away as fast as he could.

The water was not very deep, but too deep for the boy to touch the bottom with his feet, so when he came to the surface he screamed for help.

When Sonny saw the accident he ran down the bank and pulled off his ragged jacket, and when the boy's head and arms came to the surface Sonny was there and threw his jacket to the drowning boy.

Sonny held one end of the jacket, and soon the boy was safe on the bank, and a very shame-faced looking boy he was, for he lost Sonny's cart and made fun of him, and now he was indebted to Sonny for his life.

But he was so frightened that he did not stop long; in fact, he did not even thank Sonny.

He ran home, and it was not until he was comfortable in dry clothing that he thought of Sonny or the cart.

"Who helped you out of the pond?" asked his father.

"A boy," was the reply, and then the whole story was told how he made fun of Sonny and his cart.

It was a week before they discovered who Sonny was or where he lived, as he could not go to the park again until he had made another cart for the baby.

Sonny had forgotten all about the accident when, one day he was sitting beside the pond telling another story to the baby, and Bob, when a man and a boy came toward them.

"My son wants to thank you for helping him the day he fell into the pond," said the gentleman, "and I want to thank you, too," he said, holding out his hand to Sonny. "I want to shake hands," the gentleman continued, "with a boy who is so generous as you have shown yourself to be. My son was rude to you, and I am ashamed of him, but that did not prevent you from helping him when he was in trouble, and I want to thank you."

Sonny did not know what to say, but he took the proffered hand and replied: "Oh, that is all right."

But the gentleman did not stop with thanks; he went home with Sonny, and talked with his mother. A place was found for the children to stay during the day, and Sonny went to school all day. Coal was put in for the winter and provisions also, and Sonny's mother did not have to work so hard to keep their family comfortable.

Sonny found a lifelong friend in the man, who never lost sight of him or forgot his generous act.

Two-Minute Dramas in the Lives of St. Louisans' You Know

Dr. Starkloff's First Prayer.

SOME years ago Dr. Max C. Starkloff, now Health Commissioner of St. Louis, was visited by a young man who appealed to the doctor to get him a job as a railroad brakeman. Dr. Starkloff, willing to do the caller a favor, but believing that the youth was not robust enough for such work, endeavored to dissuade him. But the applicant insisted and Dr. Starkloff finally agreed to recommend him for a position.

In due time the young man got the job and went to work with the understanding that he was to receive nothing for the first two weeks.

It was only a few days later that an urgent call came to Dr. Starkloff's home, asking that he hasten to a point a few miles from St. Louis, where a wreck had taken place in which several men had been injured. In an isolated shanty by the side of the railroad track Dr. Starkloff found one of the injured men, and instantly recognized him as the youth for whom he had obtained the job. He also realized immediately that the man was dying. He did what he could to make the patient easier. The young man was scarcely conscious, but he had known from the first that it was Dr. Starkloff attending him. He had remembered the physician's voice. After a half hour had passed the patient opened his eyes and said: "Doctor, I am going to die. I want somebody to pray for me."

The doctor asked those about him where a clergyman could be found, but was told that there was none near who might be called. "Can anybody here pray?" asked the doctor. Nobody answered. Dr. Starkloff up to that time had never uttered a prayer for others to hear, but he was unwilling to let the young man go out of the world with his last request ungranted. So he knelt down on the floor of the shanty and prayed as best he could. When he finished the brakeman propped himself on one elbow and putting the other arm about Dr. Starkloff's neck, said: "That is the best prayer I ever heard in my life." In a few minutes he was dead.

TALKS ON THRIFT

(American Bankers Association.)

"Thrift is the one investment that always yields returns."—Isaac F. Marcosson.

MANY persons want to make money too fast and often lose what they save by risking it on questionable ventures.

The savings bank way is the best until one has accumulated some capital and acquired experience and judgment to enable him to make sound investments on a larger scale. A savings account does not compel the investor to go back and start over again because of losses by speculation or otherwise.

One can invest small, odd amounts in a savings account. He can invest them at any time, and his money will begin to earn interest at once. The interest, as soon as it is added to the principal, begins to earn more interest itself, and thus the account grows in two ways.

Of course, savings banks compound interest is not the only way to make money with money.

Many fortunes were made and many more will be made through wise investments. And many fortunes are lost, too, through unwise investments. But thrifty habits and consulting with experienced persons like conservative bankers will give one the wisdom necessary to handle money wisely.

When you invest in some things—stocks, for instance—you assume a business risk for the sake of sharing in business profits. But perhaps you are not in a position to take "business risks."

Speculation is an expensive luxury. The wisest course for the person of moderate resources is to keep entirely clear of it, no matter what form it takes. When you speculate, you can only hope to win, but with your money in a sound bank you can know just where your money is and what it is earning for you all the time.

Savings bank deposits are better protected than money in any equally profitable and equally available direct investment. The protection is as nearly perfect as law can make any investment of money. That is why the savings bank ought to be considered one of the foundations of our national safety and prosperity.—T. D. MacGregor.

The Royal Washing.

When the court is at Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace the laundry work is done by contract, and the royal washing bills amount to £6000 per annum. At Balmoral and Sandringham a certain amount of the work is "done at home." In this connection, an amusing incident occurred one Sunday morning during the last stay of the court in the Highlands.

* * *

The weather had been bad, and as the indoor drying accommodation is limited, quite a quantity of linen was undried on the Sunday morning. A brisk wind sprang up, but the Queen's rigid orders prohibiting unnecessary work on the Sabbath kept the laundry maids inactive. Presently, however, her Majesty, with the rest of the royal family, drove off to church, and no sooner had the carriage disappeared round the bend than out came the linen, and soon every line was crowded with fluttering garments.

* * *

Careful note of time was taken and an outlook posted as the doxology time approached. At the critical moment everything was whisked in, and the Queen drove home by the drying ground, blissfully unconscious that garments and tablecloths had been drying in the open on Sunday.—London Chronicle.

What Grandma Used to Wear

The following was published in the "Silver Standard," a Connecticut newspaper, in 1847:

STYLES.

FEMALE DRESS OF THE TIMES.

The Boston correspondent of the St. Louis Reveille thus describes some of the peculiarities of female dress, at present in the ascendant among the fashionables in the former city:

"I observed one of our fashionable ladies on Washington street, a few days since, who was crowned with a bonnet that was trimmed with 10—yes, upon my word, ladies, 10—different shades of ribbons, five bouquets on the outside, and three wreaths on the inside, which rested upon a lining of plaid silk!

"She gracefully sported a very long plaid shawl—looked satisfied with her gay mousseline de laine—took particular care to show a pretty small foot, cased in a straw-colored boot—and, with the simplicity of a baby, exercised her teeth on the ivory-top of a figured silk parasolette, which she handled with sky-blue gloves!"

Freckle-Face

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of Those Ugly Spots.

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face.

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from your druggist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds of February and March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more othine is sold in these months. Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.—ADV.

How to Dry-Clean Your Fine Laces

Soiled lace is unbearable—and unwearable. Washing in soap and water ruins good lace. Dry-cleaning is the only safe way. Don't send them out, though,—it's expensive and it means letting that precious lace out of your hands.

Dry-clean your lace at home. Here's the simple, easy, quick and safe way.

Directions:—Put lace in a mixture of Putnam Dry-Cleaner and gasoline and add a handful of flour. Brush lace with a stiff brush or whisk broom. Rinse in clear gasoline, allow to dry and brush again to remove the flour.

Only takes a few minutes—absolutely harmless for the finest lace.

There are a hundred other cleaning uses for Putnam Dry-Cleaner—for gloves, dress goods, furs, silks, ribbons, neckties, curtains, etc. All can be cleaned every bit as well as the professional dry-cleaner does it, and at a fraction of the cost.

Your Druggist carries Putnam Dry-Cleaner—25c and 50c bottles. If he can't supply you, write us—we will send large size can postpaid for 50c. 7

MOYER PROPOSES PLAN TO SETTLE MICHIGAN STRIKE

Suggests Referendum on Abandonment of Organization and Return to Work.

CHICAGO, March 11.—"We will sanction the calling off of the copper miners' strike if the men themselves want to do it," declared Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, here today.

Moyer recommended a referendum vote to determine whether the strikers desired to waive their demand for recognition of the union, to surrender their union cards and return to work.

The men could make their own individual terms with the mining companies, said Moyer. As far as the Western Federation was concerned, he asserted that organization was willing to accept the changes in working conditions which the companies have made since the strike and would be content to have the strikers return to work with the understanding that they could do so without prejudice.

Moyer said he wished to make it plain that the men on strike could take any action they desired and without interference from the union.

Allen F. Rees, senior counsel for the mining companies, said that the men would be taken back without prejudice upon surrendering their union cards and that places doubtless would be found for all except for those who engaged in acts of violence and other lawlessness.

"We will start off again with a clean slate," declared A. E. Petermann, another attorney for the operators, who confirmed what Rees has said.

FEDERATED CLUBS INDORSE MISSOURI CLEANUP CAMPAIGN

Resolution by H. P. Fritsch Urges That It Be Extended to Every City in State.

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

Today's Program for Conference Taken Up Principally With Committee Meetings.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—The closing hours of the convention of the Missouri Federation of Commercial Clubs today were devoted chiefly to committee meetings, in which the work of the Federation was mapped out for final endorsement by the convention.

Among the important business still to be disposed of was the election of officers and the selection of the next convention city. Advocates of Joplin were confident that their city would be selected for the 1915 gathering.

The federation indorsed the Shackleford good roads bill, but urged that it be amended to provide for permanent road improvements and to require property owners to bear one-third of the expense of road improvements.

The indorsement was obtained after a sharp debate. The Committee on Resolutions brought in a report favoring national and state aid for good roads, but not mentioning specifically the Shackleford bill. Lieutenant-Governor Painter offered an amendment indorsing the Shackleford bill. After being modified, this amendment was adopted.

H. P. Fritsch, secretary of the Vane Paint Co. of St. Louis today introduced the following resolution:

"Whereas, we recognize the national 'clean up and paint up' campaign as an immediate and practical and comprehensive means to arouse civic consciousness among all the people in any community, and to give sane, satisfactory and constructive direction to that spirit.

"Be it resolved, That we congratulate its promoters on the adoption of this original Missouri idea in the more than a thousand cities and towns conducting local campaigns on the plans of the national 'clean up and paint up' campaign bureau, with headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., and that we urge the organization of these campaigns in every city and town in Missouri under the auspices of the commerical clubs of such cities.

"Be it further resolved, That a special committee of five be appointed by the president of the Federation of Missouri Commercial Clubs to confer with the chairman of said national bureau on the feasibility of a general campaign of this character throughout Missouri, and especially where no local organization exists."

The clean-up resolution was received with enthusiasm and every effort will be made to have the movement that originated in St. Louis spread to every corner of the State.

Another matter before the convention was a plan for the commercial clubs to keep an agent at Ellis Island in New York harbor, to win immigrant farmers as Missouri settlers. This plan of bringing foreigners into the State, it is expected, will be developed in detail and an agent appointed to the task before the next convention is held.

Discussion of plans to develop Missouri further, procure a better understanding and closer business relation between the farmer and the merchant and how to obtain better roads and improve rural living conditions were the chief topics before the convention yesterday.

Renewal of their organization under the administration of the federation has been accomplished by 416 clubs in the State, and only five failed to respond to a request to appoint delegates to the convention.

DISTILLERS MERGE.

Shaughnessy and Edwin Schiele Distilling Co.'s Consolidated.

A merger of the Shaughnessy Distilling Co. with the Edwin Schiele Distilling Co. was consummated Tuesday, with a combined capital of $350,000. The Edwin Schiele Distilling Co. started 14 years ago, coming to St. Louis from Cincinnati. The Shaughnessy Distilling Co. has been in business in St. Louis for over 25 years, enjoying a large trade in this field and throughout the Southwest.

The Edwin Schiele Distilling Co. will move on April 1, to 504-506 North Third street, where enlarged facilities will enable the quick handling of the combined business of the two organizations. The officers of the company will be Edwin Schiele, president; David Kriegshaber, vice-president; B. R. Kramer, treasurer; Cyrus Adler, secretary.

MRS. JANE OTT FILES SECOND DIVORCE SUIT

Artist's Wife Accuses Him of Drinking and Refusing to Support Her.

Mrs. Jane Schaufert Ott filed a second divorce suit against Ralph Chesley Ott, an artist, in the Circuit Court, Wednesday. Mrs. Ott filed a similar suit about a year ago, but a decree was denied by Judge Hitchcock. Ott formerly was an artist in the employ of the Lewis Publishing Co. at University City.

Mrs. Ott in her second petition makes several allegations which were in the first. She accuses her husband of drinking and refusing to support her.

One allegation is that in July, 1910, Ott took her to Gloucester, Mass., and required her to sit on the hard ground every day while he sketched the beauties of nature.

She also alleges that when they lived at the Marquette Hotel he left her alone for a month to nurse their sick child while he "indulged in hilarious entertainment" elsewhere.

Mrs. Ott recently has been performing at a Chicago vaudeville theater.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes [illegible] Associated Press.

THE POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

SITE FOR POULTRY EXHIBIT WILL BE PICKED THURSDAY

Zoological Board Will Look Over Available Locations in Forest Park.

Mayor Kiel, Park Commissioner Davis, George Dieckman and Robert H. Keiser, members of the Zoological Board, will go to Forest Park Thursday afternoon to select the site for the Post-Dispatch permanent poultry exhibit, which is to be established in connection with the Zoo. They will reach the park about 4 o'clock and will be met there by prominent poultrymen of St. Louis, who are interested in the project and want to advise the officials on the selection of the site.

Dieckman favors a site south of the Art Building rather than a location south of the bird cage, as was at first planned, and it is probable that the exhibit will be placed near the Art Building.

The Post-Dispatch will be represented by T. W. Orcutt, editor of the poultry department of the paper, who suggested the exhibit.

The plan is to place more than 100 pens of land and water fowls in the Zoo to represent the standard breeds of poultry recognized in America.

As soon as the site is officially selected, grading will begin and construction of the pens will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Twenty-five pens are to be constructed of material furnished by the St. Louis Steel Co. The O. K. Harry Steel Co. will donate 10 portable metal model poultry houses.

More than 50 pens of chickens have been promised by breeders. They will be placed as soon as the pens are ready.

There are to be no fees attached to the entry of birds. All birds will remain on exhibition throughout the season for educative purposes. All must conform to the standard. The name of the donor of the fowls will be placed on the pens. An expert poultryman will care for the birds and superintend the experimental work that will be conducted on the grounds. After the birds are delivered in St. Louis there will be no cost to the owner, either for entry or maintenance.

An administration building has been arranged for as a headquarters for the poultry department and poultry literature, experiment station reports and Federal pamphlets will be distributed there. Poultry owners will be encouraged to come to the headquarters and tell of their troubles.

POST OFFICE BRANCH IN DRUG STORE IS ROBBED

Henry O. A. Huegel, in charge of postoffice branch station No. 45, at 1468 South Grand avenue, at Huegel's drugstore, found, when he opened the store at 7 a. m., Wednesday, that burglars had entered by forcing open a window at the rear of the place.

Investigation disclosed that $59 in cash, belonging to the drug store, and $8.63 in cash and stamps of the Government were missing from the cash till. A larger register and a safe containing considerable money were unmolested. Huegel reported the case to Inspector William L. Reed.

STOCK TRADING IS QUIET AND PROFESSIONAL

Late Market Shows Mixed Price Changes; London List Is Quiet.

NEW YORK, March 11.

The demand was mostly professional in the early stock market today and prices were irregular. Sentiment, however, was fairly cheerful.

New York Central directors meet today to act on dividend.

"New England shippers adopt resolution favoring request of railroads for rate advance.

"Western Union directors meet today.

"William A. Garrett, vice-president of the Chicago Great Western, was elected chairman of the new board of the Pere Marquette.

"Alaska railway bill, authorizing construction of not more than 1000 miles of road, to cost $35,000,000, awaits President's signature.

"Nipissing Mining official says earnings at present show slight decreases, but no discussion among directors has taken place regarding cut in dividend.

"Results of investigation of Metropolitan Tobacco Co. laid before Attorney-General McReynolds. Reported he has decided to file suit under the Sherman law.

"Union Switch and Signal Co. increases capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, and declares stock dividend of 33 1-3 per cent.

"United States Circuit Court of Appeals upholds Goodwin patnest on films manufactured by Eastman Kodak Co., involving many millions. Company will apply to United States Supreme Court for writ of certiorari.

"London settlement concludes today.

"Americans in London quiet and easier.

"There was a better demand for mercantile paper, and some of the Western banks were buyers here. The total absorption was sufficient to show that high-grade loans of this character, running from three to six months, were becoming exceedingly popular with banks which a year ago were putting their money into bonds and short-term corporation obligations.

"The banks here received numerous inquiries concerning the probable outcome of the controversy over what sort of commercial paper should be accepted for rediscount by the Federal reserve banks, and keen interest was manifested in the conference of merchants called for this afternoon to consider the suggestions of the Clearing House Committee in this city.

"The feeling prevailed that the Federal Reserve Board would be certain to view the question in a broad light, so as to take in all classes of paper that represented legitimate commercial transactions."

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S WALL STREET TRANSACTIONS

NEW YORK, March 11.—Bullish sentiment was chilled by the appearance of large selling orders today when attempts were made to carry further yesterday's rise. Liquidation was renewed in American Sugar and the Eastern Railroad shares, among which losses ran from 1 to 3 points.

Traders found the buying to be of poor quality and widened their selling, so that a large part of the list was forced under yesterday's close. Announcement of the regular New York Central dividend caused that stock to rally over a point, and the whole list became steadier toward noon. Bonds were irregular.

NEW YORK, March 11.—American Sugar again weakened at the opening today. It dropped 2 points to 98¼ on the first few transactions. National Biscuit advanced a point. Changes otherwise were small and irregular, with an easier tendency against the active stocks.

Although professional pressure was applied more or less persistently, the market did not sag much, and when support appeared for Sugar and New Haven, the whole list improved. New Haven rose to a fraction above yesterday's closing and Sugar rallied a point.

While sufficient buying power developed to check the forenoon decline, prices afterward moved narrowly, the market feeling the effect of the poor annual reports put out by important industrial combinations. Western Union gained a point on the increase in the annual dividend to a 4 per cent basis. Rock Island bonds were weak, with colaterels touching a new low level at 40.

Signs of fresh liquidation in the Gould railroad stocks and bonds had a slight weakening effect on the general list. Bethlehem Steel advanced on its excellent annual report.

London Money.

Rich Brooklyn Publisher Takes Bride From Home for Aged.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Announcement was made last night at the home of Samuel Young Allaire, 78 years old, and a wealthy publisher of Brooklyn, that he and Mrs. Mary Owens, 72, an inmate of the Methodist Home for the Aged, Brooklyn, are on their honeymoon.

The couple eloped last Friday because of opposition by relatives of Mr. Allaire to his proposed marriage.

SHEEP—A very small supply was received and there was no material change to the market. Best fat lambs sold at $7.65@8; mutton sheep, $5.65@6; stockers and choppers, $4@4.40, and bucks, $5.

HORSES AND MULES—There was a fair trade in the horse market today and Eastern and Southern States were taking large supplies at steady values.

The mule trade today is on a little stronger basis and all the good quality types of work mules were meeting a little better demand.

Minor crop damage reports from Kansas gave distant wheat options a steady tone Wednesday. The May future was barely steady.

Corn prices also showed a steady tone on buying by pit traders on steady cables and light receipts. Oats were a sharp fraction higher.

Firmness in America and steadiness in Winnipeg caused shorts to cover and at the opening in Liverpool values were ¼d higher. Following the opening there was a noticeable scarcity of offers, and with some speculative support prices further advanced ⅛d to ¼d, with the undertone firm. Less favorable reports from Russia, scarcity of Russian offers, firmer Manitoba and Plate offers and private reports received of less favorable conditions in Kansas helped the advance.

Liverpool corn opened unchanged and later July advanced ⅛d in sympathy with wheat and firmer American cables yesterday. Expectations of very early shipments of new Plate served to check the advance.

Advices received by Broomhall report that farm reserves are larger than many are led to believe, and these will press on European markets before long. In Argentine corn continues to make good progress, with favorable weather, and harvesting is progressing rapidly. Contracts are being made for April. Freight tonnage this week amounts to 340,000 tons, against 285,000 last week and 170,000 last year.

Wheat receipts in the Northwest again were light. Minneapolis reported 252 cars, against 374 last week and 304 last year. Duluth, 65, against 25 and 51. Winnipeg 159, against 399 and 255. Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 325,000 bu for four days.

Liverpool wheat closed ⅜d higher, corn ⅝d higher. Paris wheat ¼c to ½c lower, flour, ¾c lower. Antwerp wheat unchanged. Berlin, ⅛c higher. Budapest, ⅞c higher.

Bartlett-Frazier of Chicago wired Representative A. C. Petri: There is small ground for a comparison of the course of corn prices two years ago and the present conditions surrounding the trade. The farm stocks were practically the same then as now, but Chicago's stocks on March 1 were 10,200,000 bu this year, against 5,200,000 in 1912. In 1912 we had a big export trade at this date, having shipped 15,000,000 bu in January and February and exporting 7,000,000 in March and April. This year we have exported less than 2,000,000 bu since Jan. 1, and there seems absolutely no possibility of any exports in the near future. It is true that hogs and cattle are selling at prices that induce farm feeding of corn, but there is a big shortage in both classes of animals. The number of hogs in the county is now 6,500,000, or 10 per cent less than in 1912, with cattle 1,400,000 head short. Briefly, the difference between the two years is that we have this year visible stocks that are twice as heavy and no export trade to help use them up, while the country has a heavy shortage of both hogs and cattle, and therefore less use for the present farm stocks than was the case in 1912.

Clearances—Wheat, 439,999 bu; corn, none; oats, 8000; flour, 13,000. Wheat and flour, 496,000. Wheat exports include 348,000 bonded; oats all bonded.

Total primary wheat receipts were 554,000 bu, against 828 bu last year; shipments, 442,000 bu, against 445,000 bu last year.

Corn receipts, 1,063,000 bu, against 967,000 bu last year; shipments, 741,000 bu, against 556,000 bu last year.

Oats receipts, 848,000 bu, against 781,000 bu last year; shipments, 795,000 bu.

Chicago wheat cars were 83; corn, 366; oats, 177. Estimated Thursday: Wheat, 53; corn, 331; oats, 125.

The Jarr Family

By ROY L. McCARDELL.

Mrs. Jarr Wants to Move Away From a Neighborhood When People Say "Skoits."

MRS. JARR got home with Master Willie from the store just in time to be late for supper—"dinner" the evening meal was called when the Jarrs had company, but they had no company at the present time, the two Miss Cackleberrys, together with their mother and their stepfather, Mr. Bernard Blodger, having all gone back.

Mr. Jarr never said a word to Mrs. Jarr for being late. Mrs. Jarr always said a few when Mr. Jarr was, and yet, and this is another strange thing, Mr. Jarr was so often late to supper one would have thought Mrs. Jarr would have run out of words upon the subject.

"Hello, dearie!" said Mr. Jarr, greeting her with a smile and a kiss—Ah, in these days of tango teas the husband must use all his wiles to endear the home to wife.

"For goodness sake! Don't get me all rumpled till I get my things off!" replied Mrs. Jarr. "The time I have had this day! Whoever says that women are crazy about shopping must be thinking of somebody else but me! I do hope I won't have to go downtown to the stores for another month—and that reminds me that I must go tomorrow, for there is a sale of little girls' white embroidered frocks and I promised little Emma I would get her one! And I forgot to exchange those short length white gloves they sent me by mistake or arm length ones! And I didn't get a chance to match that shadowy lace for the little dress I am having made over. You remember that old taffeta costume I have had for years and years? There was a stain upon one of the breadths and any other woman but me would have thrown it away, but now, thank goodness, the narrow skirts are still in and the dressmaker said if I got some shadow lace to drape it she ...ld change the breadths"—

"...pper's ready, dear," interrupted Mr. Jarr.

"Well, for goodness sake, let me get my breath!" replied Mrs. Jarr. "I wish we could afford to live in an elevator apartment house. By the time I climb these three flights of stairs I am so exhausted I can't speak for 10 minutes! I really think we should move; the neighborhood isn't what it used to be at all, and now that Emma is growing as she is and is almost old enough to take piano lessons—and that will be at ...st $4 a month, and where the money ... to come from I can't see—and Willie, really, makes associates that one cannot be proud of, and the dreadful way he speaks from the talk he hears in the streets! I could have dropped through the floor today in the store—and you know how nice Mr. Floss, the floorwalker, always is to me.

"What did Willie say in the store that shocked you?" asked Mr. Jarr, in hope of checking the verbal shower bath.

"What was it you said, Willie, when mamma wanted to buy you the beautiful little Highlander Scotch costume?" asked Mrs. Jarr.

"I said I didn't want to wear a girl's dress. Pop, it was a dress like Becky Slavinsky wears on Sunday, and I seen a money dressed the same way"—

"SAW a monkey, Willie," corrected his mother. "And that reminds me of the awful word Willie used, or, rather, the word wasn't so awful, but the way he pronounced it—'skoits!' Think of it! 'Skoits!'"

"What!—That's pure stuff," said Mr. Jarr. "Do you understand this: 'Gee! I went to wolk and got me sholt dolty, and the wolk make me so tolsty that I quit Tolsday. I'd rather be moldold than wolk in Jolsy!'"

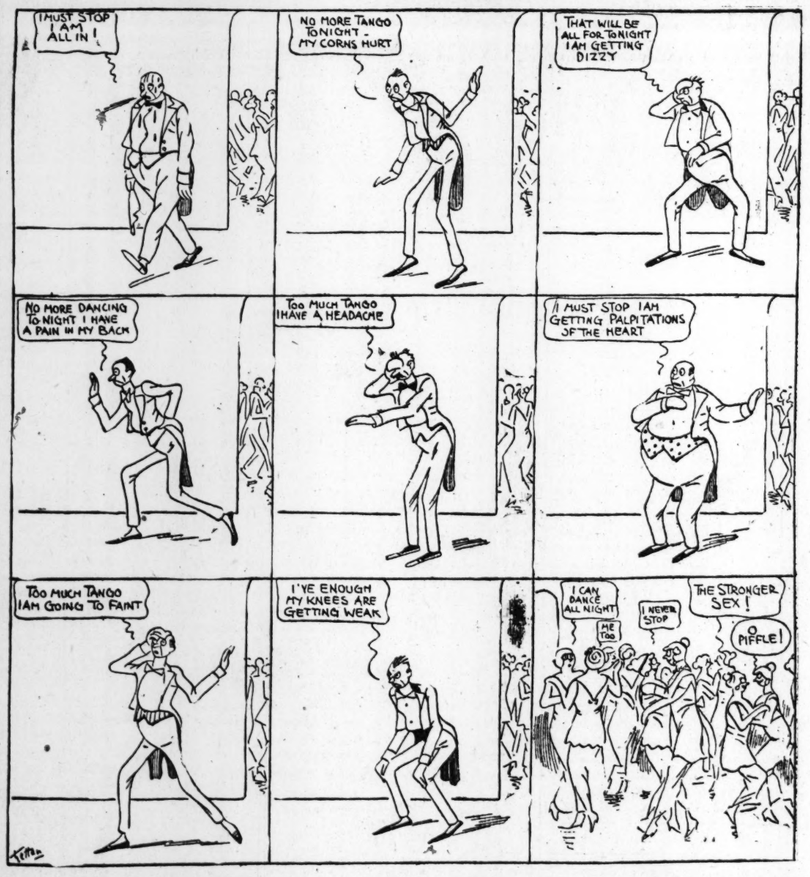

"It's no wonder I can't do anything with the children when you only make fun of my efforts to correct them!" whimpered Mrs. Jarr.

"Aw, and they wanted me to wear an Eating suit with a plug hat!" chimed in Master Willie.

"And it was a beautiful suit, too, made by Tarbugle & Blewdoctor, in London, Mr. Floss told me, and Willie would have looked so nice in the Eton suit—not Eating, Willie, Eton suit—or the Gordon Highlander's costume! But Willie is telling the truth when he said the children around here who are regular little Industrious Workers of the World, the way they carry on, would have hooted at him! Oh, isn't anybody going to give me a cup of tea? My head aches fit to split."

JOKESMITHS AND ARTISTS

The Bobby Was Right.

A FRIEND of Sir Edward Landseer who accompanied him to Kensington Museum on the first occasion of its exhibition by gaslight relates that landseer stopped short before his large picture, "A Visit to Waterloo." "I must have been mad," he said, "when I painted that." And, walking up to the picture, he placed his hand over the part which had attracted criticism. An attendant policeman shouted his polite caution: "Now, then, take you 'ands off there!" "My good man," said Sir Edwin, "I was merely remarking how bad that was." "Then, why don't you go and do better?" said the policeman, who had no idea to whom he was speaking.—The Argonaut.

Measured Wits.

AMONG the anecdotes of the great and eccentric painter related in "Whistler Stories," by Don C. Seitz, is the following encounter between Whistler's wits and those of Mark Twain: The latter, on a visit to the studio, approached a nearly completed painting, and said, with an air of hopeless stupidity:

"Not at all bad, Mr. Whistler; not at all bad. Only here in this corner," he added, reflectively, with a motion as if to rub out a cloud effect, "if I were you I'd do away with that cloud!"

"Gad, sir!" cried the painter. "Do be careful there. Don't you see the paint is not yet dry?"

"Oh, don't mind that," said Mark, sweetly. "I am wearing gloves, you see!"

They got on after that.

Landscape Painters.

Tried to sell what he wrote—
Now, what in the deuce rhymes with cleverly?

Physician Gives Recipe for Gray Hair

A Well-Known Physician and Author Gives Simple Home Recipe That Will Darken Gray Hair.

Dr. Stanton Burroughs, the well-known physician and author, recently made the following statement: "Gray hair can be easily darkened by the following simple recipe which you can mix at home: To 7 oz. of water add a small box of Barbo Compound, 1 oz. bay rum and ¾ oz. glycerine. Apply it to the hair every other day until the desired shade is obtained. It not only is an excellent hair darkener but at the same time removes dandruff and other ills of the scalp. I use it myself and have no hesitancy in recommending it to my patients. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost."—ADV.

The Day's Good Stories

Neighbors.

BEAMAN had recently moved into the suburbs. He became slightly acquainted with his neighbors on either side. One very cold night in midwinter the Beaman home caught fire, and Beaman was surprised by the alacrity with which his two neighbors came to his assistance.

"Say," yelled Beaman excitedly to his neighbor on the right, "will you run down to the corner and turn in an alarm?"

"I'm awfully sorry," replied the man, "but I have rheumatism in my leg and can't run."

"Well," cried Beaman, turning to the other man, "while I'm getting out some of the things, will you yell fire?"

"Got laryngitis and can't yell," was the reply, in a stage whisper.

Beaman gasped. Then, pulling himself together, he said:

"Well, both of you go into the house and bring out chairs; then sit down and enjoy the fire!"

An Opinion of Opera.

IT is quite impossible to expect to educate everyone up to the standard of grand opera," said Madame Schumann-Heink, recently, "as the following anecdote will serve to illustrate:

"A hard-headed old Pittsburg manufacturer, who made his fortune, as he expresses it, 'with his coat off,' was induced by his daughters to accompany them to a Wagner opera, the first he had ever attended. The following day I chanced to meet the man at a reception, and as he mentioned seeing the opera, I asked:

"'Did you enjoy the opera?'

"'Well, yes,' he replied, with a reminiscent sigh. 'It took me back to the days of my youth.'

"'Ah,' I said, 'to summer days in the country, I suppose—some dainty girl in a dimity gown, the birds singing, and all that sort of thing?'

"'Oh, no, indeed, Madame,' he quickly answered, 'to the days when I worked in a boiler shop in Scranton.'"—Green Book Magazine.

Of Course!

Mother: Johnny, you said you'd been to Sunday school.

Johnny (with a far-away look): Yes, mamma.

Mother: How does it happen that your hands smell of fish?

Johnny: I carried home the Sunday school magazine, an' the outside is all about Jonah and the whale.—Tit-Bits.

A Question of Fractions.

GEORGE ADE was being entertained at the Lamb's Club in New York recently, and, as usual, was asked to give a little talk. Mr. Ade obligingly consented and during the talk drifted to the extravagance of the modern wife, to which he strongly objected.

"It is true," said Mr. Ade, in closing, "that the married men of today have better halves, but bachelors have better quarters."—Green Book Magazine.

"I wonder why Smith's wife never lets him have soup with his dinner?" "It interrupts her monologue."

No Chance.

RASTUS was sorely wounded. From his face gore flowed in rivulets, and in the outer covering of his substantial head there were sundry gashes and openings. He had been the victim of a brutal assault.

The physician who treated him for his wounds was sympathetic.

"Great heavens!" he said. "Somebody has beaten you up in a terrific manner. You must have been hit at least nine or 10 times.

"Dat ain't no joke," said Rastus, who was still trembling. "I don't believe I wuz able to git out ob de way ob anything dat wuz throwed at me."

"Then you ought to learn a lesson from it," suggested the doctor. "Hereafter, you ought to stay far away from people who indulge in this sort of thing."

"Dar ain't no chance," Rastus objected gloomily. "You know, boss, I ain't got de price of no divorce."—The Popular Magazine.
